

ORDERS are out to punish prohibition enforcement officers who violate the Fourth Amendment in enforcing the Eighteenth. They are doing a wrong if they invade a private residence without a search warrant, and there is much indignation if they do it. Of course it is also wrong, if that private residence is making or storing bootleg booze. But the indignation is all at the law-breaking official, and none at the law-breaking householder, whose lawlessness he is seeking lawlessly to expose.

And when the lawlessness is committed by searching I. W. W. headquarters and seizing its papers without warrant, there is no indignation at all. What right has the I. W. W. to his constitutional rights? Suppose we leave the indignation out of it, all around, and merely enforce the university, ruthlessly the categorical "thou shalt not" on all three sorts of lawbreakers.

THAT specimen of bootleg booze that grew horns on its bottle, and then ate a hole in a concrete floor, was enough worse than usual to get into the news. Some of it is worse than others, but it is all bad enough. Don't drink it for fun. Don't drink it for smartness. Don't drink it for good fellowship or a good time. And if you are one of the few who "has to have it" for appetite—take the cure. Life is short enough at best. Don't make it any shorter, for so small a consideration as booze.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Princess Juliana, of Holland, is going to the university. Necessary in Europe, that means to study something in particular. So she is going to study constitutional and international law. She will need them in her business, some day.

Our princesses of American democracy, tens of thousands of them, are going to the universities. For most of them, that means studying nothing in particular. They "take" English, and French, and history and botany, and if they "pass" these, they "take" some more things, next semester. After a while, if they have "taken" enough "units," they "graduate," knowing more or less, if they have not forgotten it, about a good many things in general, and not much about anything in particular.

A European would not call that going to the university. He would call it going to school.

MEMBERS of the San Francisco Grain Trade Association have sent an endorsement to Congresswoman Kahn, commending "the stand you have so firmly taken in favor of light wine and beer."

Why the "light wine" is nothing about wine or beer, nor in any other bill now before Congress. And the attorneys for the vets have advised them that if they did include wine, it would make their bills unconstitutional. Forget the "and wine." "Beer and wine" means beer.

ANOTHER college editor has been suspended, for the usual cause. There is a certain sort of callow literary aspirants who have only one standard of art, and that can only be expressed in what other people call salaciousness. They put up a great cry at the old-fogy Puritans, who forbid them to air what they claim are their souls in university publications. Boccaccio and Balzac, they say were under no such inhibition. Neither are modern French decadents. Why should they be held to tabus so archaic?

Precisely because the decadencies of life are not yet archaic, even if some old reticences are gone. It is indeed now permissible to discuss some things which once must not be mentioned. But he whose surge for literary utterance is confined to these things is too morbid or immature to have anything worth saying, even on these. College is none too long and apprenticeship in learning to say something else. Then if, after the apprenticeship, the salacious urge is still irresistible, it will at last be beyond college criticism. Most of these young pornographers will finally of themselves learn sense enough to respect the decadencies of utterance. Meantime, college authorities are quite right in enforcing them. There are repressions which are as important a part of life as are any of its expressions.

JEW, Protestant and Catholics unite in urging the New York Board of Education to permit the Ten Commandments to be read in the schools, in an effort to combat the crime wave.

The commandments are good, but it is doubtful if the reading of them would have much effect on the young incorrigibles who defy them.

It would be interesting, if there were enough Buddhists in New York, to see what would be thought of reading the Buddhists Ten Commandments. Here they are:

1. One should not destroy any life, human or animal.
2. One should not take what is not given.
3. One should not tell lies.
4. One should not drink intoxicating liquors.
5. One should not commit adultery.
6. One should not eat unseasonable food at night.
7. One should not wear garlands or use perfumes.
8. One should sleep on a mat spread on the ground.
9. One should abstain from dancing, music, singing and stage plays.
10. One should not use gold or silver.

The first five are obligatory, and were enjoined by Buddha himself. The next three are recommended, as temporary or penitential vows. The last two apply only to monks or holy men.

Fronk, Arrested in Chicago, Collapses

FUGITIVE IS UNDER CARE OF PHYSICIAN

'Hollywood Wallingford' Is Nabbed by Detective in Hotel on Fraud Charge IS READY TO RETURN

Finance 'Expert' Desires to Relieve His Wife and Child of Police Pressure

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—J. K. Fronk, of Hollywood, Calif., was under arrest here today on charges that he defrauded several California banks out of a total placed at $400,000. Fronk was arrested in a hotel here by J. J. Garvey, a private detective.

Garvey said that Fronk confessed to embezzlement of $100,000. He said he was planning to return to California to surrender because he wanted to relieve his wife and child of the pressure from police. According to word to police here, Fronk operated through the J. K. Fronk Finance company and other companies organized by him "kiting" checks and passing out other bad paper. Eight banks in various parts of the state were victimized, it was charged.

Fronk collapsed when he was arrested and is now under a physician's care.

FRONK DISAPPEARS ON NEW YEAR'S EVE
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—J. K. Fronk, "Hollywood Wallingford" captured in Chicago, disappeared on New Year's eve, after a "wild party" which climaxed three months of frenzied finance, according to local police.

He is accused of swindling eight local banks of approximately $388,000, and in addition is charged with fleeing his friends and business associates of at least another $100,000.

Fronk was head of an "investment company" which maintained several elaborate suites of offices in the downtown district. He perpetrated his alleged frauds by simply overdrawn his accounts $388,000, after putting up a glittering front and establishing credit by manipulating his books, it is claimed.

When he left Los Angeles, he had $200,000 in his possession, it was said, and was accompanied by a "blonde movie actress."

Fronk came here three years ago, broke. He had been a strong man with a circus. He became an automobile salesman, with mediocre success, until last June, when he established his "automobile finance" concern. It was then he began issuing overdrafts to cover bad checks, it is asserted.

MITCHELL'S RESIGNATION ACCEPTED BY WAR CHIEF

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Secretary of War Davis today accepted William Mitchell's resignation from the army. Announcement of this action was made by the war department as follows:

"The secretary of war has decided that the resignation of Col. William Mitchell, air service, will be accepted, to take effect Feb. 1, 1926. The adjutant general of the army has been notified to this effect."

Although no mention was made of the fact, it is customary for resignations to be accepted by the secretary of war, "in the name of the president," and it was assumed that there was no departure from custom in this case.

Mitchell, accordingly, will be a free man next Monday, out of the army after 28 years' service. He looks forward to an active campaign in behalf of his ideas for reorganizing the national defense and, in particular, the air service.

In answer to questions whether Secretary Davis or President Coolidge made the actual decision to accept the resignation without qualification, war department officials insisted that it was handled as a routine matter by Davis.

Although Davis discussed the case with the president, no definite instructions were issued by the White House, it is understood. The routine of acceptance today will be as follows:

In the printed special army orders will appear the following paragraph:

"The resignation by Col. William Mitchell, air service, of his commission as an officer of the army, is accepted by the president."

A printed copy of that paragraph will be sent to Mitchell and his superior officer.

FIVE MINERS ARE KILLED BY GAS EXPLOSION
ONE CONVICTED AND 11 FREED IN TRIAL OF COPS

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Jan. 29.—Five men were killed in an explosion in the Orient mine No. 2 here today, shortly after the miners had entered for work. The explosion covered only a small area of the mine, where nine men were at work. Four escaped.

There was no subsequent fire after the explosion and mine owners were at a loss to explain it. It was reported around the mine entrances that one of the miners went to work lighting a cigarette shortly after entering the shaft and this ignited gas which had gathered at one of the turns.

The five bodies have been removed from the mine.

WALE'S CONDITION IS SATISFACTORY

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The Prince of Wales, with his collar bone broken in yesterday's 14th riding mishap, passed a good night and was reported today to be progressing well. While this fresh difficulty from his persistent horsemanship gave rise to concern among many British subjects who have deemed the prince too daring without adequate riding ability, the prince himself was reported taking the fracture as only incidental to a love for following the hounds.

Wakatsuki Is New Premier of Japan

TOKIO, Jan. 29.—Home Minister Wakatsuki today assumed the premiership of Japan and formed a cabinet of the members of the former regime, headed by Viscount Kato, who died yesterday.

Kato has been honored in death by an increase of rank to that of count.

His funeral will be held Tuesday, with impressive Buddhist rites, and the nation plans to pay him high tribute.

SEA RESCUE DRAMA TOLD BY WIRELESS

Captain Describes Thrills in Saving Men from Tramp Ship in Atlantic Ocean

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Captain Fried, of the President Roosevelt today wirelessly to the United States line's headquarters an epic of the sea—details of his brilliant rescue of all hands aboard the distressed British tramp freighter Antiope.

"Five forty a. m. of the 24th," he wirelessly, "received SOS from S. S. Antiope. Proceeded to her position by radio compass, the bearings of which proved her position 100 miles in error."

"Alongside her at noon. West wind with violent snow squalls, high, rough sea. We were rolling 35 degrees."

"Took position quarter mile to windward, pumped oil overboard with excellent effect. Her captain claims this saved them from sinking. Lost sight of her 9 p. m."

"Her radio and dynamo out of commission. Severe snow squalls. Boat finally found again."

"Searched and picked her up again, 9:30 p. m., 25th, with engine and fire room flooded and No. 3 hatch broken. Heavily listed to starboard."

"Weather moderated. Attempted send manned lifeboat with Chief Officer Miller in charge."

"As the lifeboat worked down upon the rescuers and the sea proved so rough that they were spilled out of their boat."

"Covered with a heavy coating of fuel oil and chilled through by the frigid seas, the men scrambled back into the boat."

"Men seemed exhausted," continued the report. "Ordered men aboard, assisted by life lines. All recovered except Wirtzman, master-at-arms, and Heitman, boat-swall's mate."

Fried's report said that every effort had been made to save these two brave volunteers, but darkness and continued snow and hail squalls hampered the work and even a powerful searchlight did not permit of locating them. At that time the fury of the storm was increasing.

VESSELS HELD UP BY GALE MOVE THROUGH GOLDEN GATE

Heavy Rainfall Is Welcome Relief to Farmers in North of State

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Vessels put out through the Golden Gate today, after being tied up for 24 hours by a storm which swept the coast during the night.

The downpour, rated as a $20,000,000 rain for northern and central California, came with a sweep of wind which locked the gate for the first time in years. Five vessels, scheduled to sail yesterday, did not try, deeming it hazardous to cross the bar. Even the battleship Colorado returned to anchor after steaming down the harbor, headed for sea.

Damage in San Francisco

The gale swept through the city at only a slightly lessened speed, split awnings, shook houses, flooded streets and caused slight damage. It tore down a scaffolding around the Cliff hotel, the timbers falling upon the roofs of lower buildings.

The rain broke the long spell of cold fog which has enveloped the Sacramento valley and portions of the San Joaquin valley, and is of inestimable worth.

Throughout the night, generous rains soaked the north and central sections of the state. The Sacramento valley received more rain than the San Joaquin, but today's prediction was for occasional rains north of the Tehachapi, with a possibility that the entire state will receive a drench before the clouds break. It was clearing here this morning, however.

2.40 inches at Santa Rosa

The heaviest rainfall for the storm was registered at Santa Rosa and Red Bluff, both receiving 2.40 inches. Precipitation at other government weather stations was:

Eureka, .70; Sacramento, 1.34; San Francisco, 2.15; San Jose, 1.10; Fresno, .62; San Luis Obispo, 1.62; Bakersfield, .66; Chico, 1.65; Colusa, 1.38; Lindsay, .24; Merced, 1.18; Orville, 1.70; Paso Robles, .97; Porterville, .24; Rocklin, 1.11; Santa Barbara, .50; Stockton, 1.02; Wasco, .08.

LOS ANGELES IS VISITED BY RAINFALL

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Rains started falling in Los Angeles and other Southern California cities this morning.

The downfall was light, but steady, and heavy overcast skies indicated the showers would continue indefinitely.

The Southland escaped the winds which accompanied torrential rains in northern California. Temperatures remained moderate.

RAIN IN SANTA ANA THOUGHT NEAR

Rain looms as a possibility in Santa Ana today, but up to an early hour this afternoon Jupiter Pluvius had not winked his "blinkers" and no moisture had fallen. Clouds overhanging the sky and indications were favorable to a good rain late this afternoon or tonight.

Men On Iceboat Boats Reach Shore

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., Jan. 29.—Crews of fishing tugs Helen N. and Indian today deserted the boats, ice locked a mile northwest of this port, and made their way over perilous ice floes safely to land. Three of the men left the vessel last night and the other five arrived in Grand Haven this morning.

SEVERE COLD CLAIMS LIFE TOLL IN EAST

Many Fires Add to Perils Caused by Bitter Arctic Weather in New York

WARMER IN CHICAGO While Temperature Moderates in Midwest, Atlantic States Still Suffer

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Extreme cold and fire joined to harass New York today.

More than 2000 persons were driven from their homes during the early morning hours by fires in numerous parts of the city. They were forced to flee into a wintry morning, with a gusty wind blowing and the thermometer in the street hovering around zero.

Police and fire stations were overtaxed caring for the refugees and extinguishing the fires. Property loss was in no case heavy.

MIDWEST RELIEVED OF SEVERE COLD

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Relief came to the middle west today from the sub-zero weather of the past two days.

Thermometers in this forecast area are around zero and above today, compared with a low of 20 degrees below zero early yesterday.

Three deaths were ascribed to the cold.

WARMER WEATHER IS DUE IN OHIO

CLEVELAND IN PATH OF BITING BLIZZARD

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 29.—Mercury in Cleveland thermometers bobbed around the zero mark today, after going 3 degrees below last night, following one of the worst blizzards in years. One casualty was charged against the cold.

BELOW ZERO AT SAULT STE. MARIE

DETROIT, Jan. 29.—One death from exposure, three fatalities in two fires and the stranding of five fishermen in ice-locked tugs in Lake Michigan, was the known toll of the cold wave here, which appeared broken today. The lowest temperature reported in the state was 18 below, at Sault Ste. Marie, where it was 20 below yesterday.

SPRING WEATHER IN ROCKY MOUNTAINS

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 29.—While practically the entire country suffered from a cold wave, the Rocky Mountain region enjoyed spring weather. The temperature in Denver was 38 degrees at 8 o'clock today and yesterday's high was 50. At Sheridan, Wyo., the temperature was 44 today, or 30 degrees above normal for this time of year. Weather forecasters say the storm that has hit the north and east of the United States will not hit this territory.

ALASKA ENJOYS MILD WINTER

SEATTLE, Wn., Jan. 29.—While the east and middle west are embraced in a spell of unusual cold, Alaska, thought of as a bleak, frigid country, is enjoying one of the mildest winters in years.

Reports here today showed temperatures in most sections of Alaska higher than in the eastern United States.

Fairbanks announced 20 degrees.

COURTROOM ELOQUENCE OF COLORED PREACHER FAILS

The persuasive eloquence that has lured many African souls down the sawdust trail failed the Rev. John Turner, colored evangelist, in his hour of need today, as he stood before the bar of justice and argued against a jail sentence for speeding.

Justice K. E. Morrison did a little preaching to the preacher, who was in court for a second offense, charged with driving his car at a rate of 50 miles an hour. Once before he had been arrested on a charge of driving 48 miles an hour. Therefore, the court said, there was less reason than usual for varying the customary sentence of five days in jail. The Rev. John Turner must go to jail.

Three Men Hurt In $200,000 Fire

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Three men were in the hospital here today, suffering from injuries and burns received when the Hayward Lumber company's yards were swept by a $200,000 fire.

An explosion, which preceded the blaze, caused injuries to Claude Higgins which may prove fatal.

Firemen John S. Spahn and Everett Parish were badly burned. Several other fire fighters received minor burns.

WIRELESS REVEALS TALE OF HEROISM

QUEENSTOWN, Jan. 29.—The wireless cracked out today from the path of the life-saving steamers President Roosevelt and Bremen tales of their daring work in the worst gale of years in the Atlantic.

Captain Wurtz, taciturn German skipper, flashed her a brief but graphic tale of his snatching six men from the foundered Laristan, while Captain Toss, of the Antiope, sent to the world an epic of his own crew's privations and the heroic service rendered by Captain Fried and his volunteers from the Roosevelt in taking all off—more nearly dead than alive.

YOUTHS SHAVE IN CLASS AND GET 'A' GRADES

BERKELEY, Jan. 29.—Three men students at the University of California, old enough to grow beards, sat in the classroom of Prof. Ira B. Cross today and shaved themselves. As a result, they will receive "A" grades in their course in banking.

The men "called" the professor on his recent denunciation of co-eds who powder their noses in class.

"I'd just as soon have the men come in here and shave during lectures," Professor Cross declared. "And I'll give any man an 'A' who does it."

So Arnold Murchie, John Kimble and Wallin Carlson carried their razors and soap into class and, while the other students looked on amazed, calmly proceeded to lather up and cut 'em off.

After the operation, Professor Cross called the trio before him and complimented them.

"Come to my office after class and we'll fix the grade," the professor said.

"It's a fine idea," chorused the three. "It gives us a chance to sleep a bit later of mornings. We're willing to do it every day."

Funeral Is Held For Bishop Glass

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Churchmen and lay friends paid tribute to the memory of Bishop Joseph S. Glass, of Salt Lake City, in impressive funeral rites today.

Services were held at St. Vincent's church, where the prelate was pastor before he became head of the Utah diocese, in 1910.

Archbishop Edward J. Hanna, San Francisco, preached the eulogy, and solemn pontifical mass was sung by Bishop Cantwell, of St. Vincent's church.

Archbishop Hanna will accompany the body to Salt Lake City where final rites will be held Tuesday. Bishop Glass died here Tuesday, after a brief illness.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Count Ludwig Salm Hoogstraeten, Austrian nobleman, today won the first round of his suit for separation from his wife, the former Millicent Rogers, Standard Oil heiress, when he was granted permission to see his son, Peter, four days a week.

Heretofore, the count had charged, he never had seen the baby and that his wife had refused him this right.

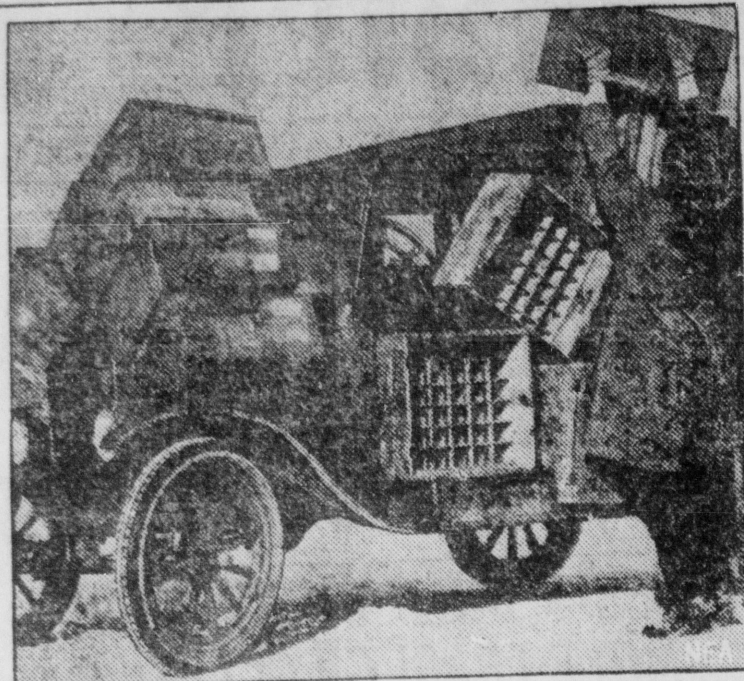

The count, however, cannot visit the child at his own convenience. The hours of 2 to 5 p. m. have been set aside as the time when his boy will be "at home."

Boy, 14, Sent to Pen for Murder

YELLVILLE, Ark., Jan. 29.—Arnold Comer, 14, pleaded guilty here today to a charge of murdering Charles Moore, fur trader, and was sentenced to 21 years in prison. BEER CASES AS FUEL Pabst beer used to be called "the beer that made Milwaukee famous." Now, it's the beer that keeps Milwaukee warm. Anyhow, more than 100,000 empty beer cases were given away at the old brewery for the city's poor. Photo shows a car hauling some of them away.

WOMAN ESCAPES FROM KIDNAPER

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Mrs. F. C. Clemett, of San Bernardino, was the victim of a bold kidnaping plot early today, according to local deputy sheriffs. She was rescued near Pomona after a harrowing experience.

According to the woman's story to officers, she was driving in her own automobile by a man with a broken arm, presumably a lunatic, from San Bernardino to Pomona, where he managed to escape and telephone for help.

The kidnaper is still at large, and local officers are searching for him. It was reported he was headed for Los Angeles, driving at fast speed in Mrs. Clemett's machine.

The sling-armed driver made no attempt to attack her, Mrs. Clemett said. He drove wildly, with the woman in the rear seat.

EL CENTRO, Calif., Jan. 29.—Willard Martin transported a case of fine Scotch whiskey overland from Florida and was not molested until he reached the California border today, when he was stopped at the Yuma bridge for inspection by the horticultural department.

affairs, which now are occupying the attention of Orange county folk, the chairmen of the civics departments of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs, gathered yesterday for a luncheon in Ket-ner's cafe.

two answering to roll call, when Mrs. J. R. Hunt, of Brea, called the meeting to order.

The outstanding problems before Orange county today, as brought out by the various club representatives, were the coming bond election for the Orange county harbor outfall sewer system by the state health department. Mrs. B. Uttley, representing the Santa Ana Woman's club, told the necessity of working for the bond election. It was decided to hold the next meeting in Balboa, at the Southern Seas

IS DELAYED BY GOTHAM JUDGE

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Supreme Court Justice Aaron Levy in chambers yesterday heard the arguments on the writ of habeas corpus sued out for Everett A.
"Big Hutch" Hutchings, wanted in California for alleged parole violation, and took the case under advisement, giving attorneys until February 14 to file briefs.

Assistant District Attorney Michael Driscoll represented the state and Attorney Joseph Shal-lack appeared for Hutchings. Driscoll confined his argument largely to the reading of many decisions on parallel phases of the case, maintaining it purely was a question of law.

Shallock offered as evidence testimony taken in the extradi-tation hearing before Gov. Al Smith.
He refused to admit that Hutchings was the man described in the warrant sent here by the governor of California. He told of Hutchings' parole, however, and said he was working here for the American Press association at $35 a week, after having been told he must leave the state of California.

In November, he said, detectives came from California and inquired of Hutchings' employers as to his presence and work here.

"Hutchings is a football for the governor of California and the district attorney of Los Angeles," Shallock charged.

Justice Levy commented that he knew there was a feud between those two officials.

"Never before has there been a case where a state has said to a man, 'get out,' and then wanted him back," Shallock charged.

"They don't want this man back to try him—for there is no crime to try him for and no court to try him in," he added, continuing his charges that "this is a political frameup."

The hearing lasted about two hours.

Tomorrow is American Legion Paper Day.

29, enroute to the annual convention of the National Editorial association, in Los Angeles, June 30. It was papermen.

of June 28 in San Diego and arrive in Santa Ana by special train the next morning. Breakfast will be cognized as being the producers of more publicity than probably any others," Dr. Slabaugh commented.

week in the northern part of the state. The California entertainment features will end Saturday, July 10, in Santa Barbara, held in the county detention home

Billy
Evans
Says

VANISHING AMERICAN

Jim Thorpe, greatest of all Indian athletes, has decided to retire.
Thorpe is one of the last of the Vanishing Americans in sport to answer the call of Old Man Time.
Jim began his career at Carlisle in 1906 and for 20 years has been a headliner in college and professional sports.

His greatest national achievement was the winning of the individual championship in the Olympic games in 1912 at Stockholm. Shortly after he returned to this country with his newly-won honors, Jim was accused of being a professional.

Some busybody discovered that Thorpe under an assumed name had played baseball in a small minor league in the south. Jim admitted it and they took his medals away.

Deciding to turn sure-enough professional, he accepted an offer from the New York Giants. Thorpe just couldn't hit curve-ball pitching, and after a short stay in the big show, passed to the minors. He has played in any number of the smaller circuits.

Despite his great prowess in all lines of sport, Thorpe was at his best on the gridiron.

THORPE RETIRES

It was my very good fortune to have seen Thorpe perform on the gridiron when he was at his best. I saw him play any number of games when he starred with the Carlisle Indians and later as a professional player.

If I were to name the greatest all-round football player I ever saw do his stuff on the gridiron, I would select Jim Thorpe without the slightest hesitation.

Jim could do everything well, great on offense as well as defense, and a whale of a kicker. Fleet of foot he was as brilliant as Red Grange in the open field.

His football feats would fill a volume. Harvard will always recall his 1911 performance against the Crimson, when aside from doing most of the ball-toting, he also kicked four place picks from various distances up to 43 yards.

Perhaps the real reason for Thorpe's brilliance in football aside from his great natural ability, was came from California and inquired
of Hutchings' employers as to his presence and work here.

"One must quit sometime. My earning days are over. While sports have always been my livelihood, I have really played because of the love of competition."

FAMOUS ATHLETE

Aside from football and baseball, Thorpe was a marvelous performer on the track, basketball and lacrosse.

Lawson Robertson, famous trainer of the University of Pennsylvania recently placed Thorpe at the top of the list in summing up the track stars of the world.

As sensational as was Red Grange during his college days, Thorpe was even greater. Thorpe was born too soon. He did his stuff before the days of exploiting outstanding sport stars became the rage.

It must pain Jim considerably to see Red Grange getting as much as $20,000 for playing a football game.

WORLD'S BIGGEST TURTLE

Vale university's new Peabody museum displays this skeleton of a prehistoric turtle—the largest turtle that ever lived. A member of the museum staff is shown beside it. One of the turtle's feet is gone.
The evidence, scientists say, is that this foot was chewed off by a giant lizard some time before the turtle's death.

EVANGELISTIC NEWLYWEDS OPEN SANTA ANA REVIVAL

CANDY OUTPUT OF FIRM INCREASING

Indicating the rapid growth and expansion of the candy factory of the manufacturing enterprise of Roehm-Sylvester, Inc., officials of the company today announced that it is preparing to manufacture this year approximately 200,000 pounds of chocolate, this being the development of a little more than one year's operation of the department.

The department confines itself exclusively to the manufacture of chocolates, two brands being produced, the Laguna and Sheba. When the concern started manufacturing on October 6, 1924, only two persons were employed, and at the close of last year, the number of employees had been increased to 16.

According to J. M. Cloyes, secretary of the company, the factory output in 1925 was 101,600 pounds of chocolates. Recounting introduction of the factory, Cloyes said that the product met with such instant success that at the end of the first month, the employees were increased to 12. In January, 1925, more space was added, and in July of the same year, the space doubled.

This summer, the company will add a refrigerator to its equipment, which will make it possible to increase its product and store manufactured goods for the season of peak demand, November and December. "The payroll of Roehm-Sylvester, Inc., was $30,000 and that money was paid to employees who live in Santa Ana and spend their money in Santa Ana," Cloyes said, in stressing the value to the community of patronizing home institutions.

"The exceptional quality and their delicately flavored centers have created a demand for Laguna and Sheba chocolates that has developed a selling territory extending from San Jose, Calif., on the north, to El Paso, Texas, on the south," the secretary added.

CORPORATIONS PAY
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 29.—More than $700,000 had been received from the 1926 state corporation license tax by the secretary of state's office. It was expected that corporations will pay in more than $1,000,000.

Menu for the Family

BREAKFASTS
THE family of assorted sizes, so to speak, requires much thought and careful planning for, when breakfast is being considered.

Children must have well-cooked cereal, grown-ups want coffee and fruit and perhaps something to tempt a fickle appetite while fruit should be served the whole family.

The nature of the luncheon each person eats affects the sort of breakfast he must have and of course the kind of work he does determines whether his breakfast must be hearty or light.

Breakfast should be a pleasant unhurried meal, but the woman who must dress the children and herself and have breakfast on the table by the time "father" has fixed the furnace and merely dressed, himself finds nothing pleasant or unhurried about it, at least the preparation of it. However, if the cereal is cooked the night before and the fruit is prepared at the same time, much time is saved.

Another breakfast time saver, both in the preparation and the aftermath of dishwashing is found in the one-course breakfast. By combining the fruit and cereal, a nourishing breakfast is practically served in one dish. Cooked fruits of any kind can always be combined with a cereal, making a really delicious dish.

When there are no small children to be considered the cereal can be done away with and hot muffins, griddle cakes or French toast made with eggs be substituted. Whenever a cereal is served crisp toast should be provided.

Vary your cereals, vary your fruits and vary the methods of cooking the eggs. Serve something quite out of the ordinary occasionally. No matter how much we like the breakfast of grapefruit, soft cooked eggs, hot buttered toast and coffee it palls after a time.

Children who go to school and carry a luncheon consisting mainly of sandwiches must have a breakfast furnishing some protein as well as starch and fats and mineral salts. If possible vegetables should be incorporated in the meal. Creamed vegetables on toast are never out of place on the breakfast menu. Tomatoes and spinach combine perfectly with eggs, are easily digested and rich in mineral salts and vitamins. The child who dislikes cereals will find these vegetable dishes particularly satisfying.

The idea that breakfast is a light "sketchy" meal to be omitted entirely if one is dieting to reduce is not quite right. Even if one is reducing breakfast should be a regular meal for the day. Do without luncheon rather than breakfast if one meal must be done away with. Breakfast literally breaks the fast of the night time and must be carefully planned to keep the diet for the entire day in properly balanced calories.

Teacher Will Be Ousted To Please Pupils

TURLOCK, Calif., Jan. 29.—Students of the Hilmar high school were attending their classes today, after they had been given a definite assurance by the school trustees, following a threatened school strike, that Principal Marcus Greeley would be discharged as soon as it could be done legally. Greeley probably will remain until the end of his term. Wrath of the students against Greeley was aroused when he caused the dismissal of Ross Kinney, manual training instructor, who had been accused of having liquor in his possession. A misdemeanor charge against Kinney was dropped.

PILL-SLAVE FREED FROM CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought natural relief in a few weeks

A remarkable, convincing tribute is paid Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in this letter from Mr. F. C. Amminsen, of Seattle:

"I suffered with chronic constipation for many years and was compelled to use pills every night, but since I got your Kellogg's ALL-BRAN it works fine. I would not be without it. I was so dreadfully sick of taking pills every night. Now it is so different. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN works so naturally and is pleasant to take."

F. C. AMMINSEN, Kenmore, Seattle, Washington.

You can get permanent relief from constipation with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN if eaten regularly. Two tablespoons daily—or in chronic cases, with every meal. Doctors recommend it because it is ALL-BRAN. It does a job only ALL-BRAN can do. Part-bran products may not do any good at all.

Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or cream. Use it in cooking. Try the recipes given on the package. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Served by the leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by grocers.

First Anniversary of Country Club Brings Gay Celebration

"One wonderful night" indeed, did last night prove for all members of Santa Ana Country club, who enjoyed birthday revels at the clubhouse in celebration of the conclusion of the first year and beginning of the second in the new home's history.

No effort was spared to make the evening a happy one and one which fittingly celebrated the many, delightful features of the year. To add to the effect, was the fact that dinner was served in the new dining room, open for the first time in celebration of the occasion. This new addition was especially charming in plum and amber, with rose candles to harmonize with the shaded lights of the ball room where several large tables were arranged to accommodate diners also. A special snack dinner was served. Grigsby's orchestra of six pieces, rendered a delightful "last" program and the merry-makers mingled in friendly fashion in the rhythms of the dance. The plan was to confine attendance strictly to members, that all might feel themselves better acquainted as a result of the first annual birthday party.

Many compliments were showered on Manager T. F. McGilvray and Mrs. McGilvray for the perfection of the evening's plans.

Those present were Messrs and Mesdames: Walter Vandermast, Albert Taylor, Morris Cain, Charles Chapman, A. W. Dula, C. P. Kinton, C. V. Davis, J. Fred Parsons, C. D. Holmes, A. B. Watson, Jess Goodman, F. C. Mock, J. J. Harrison, F. E. Moore, Joe Warner, N. J. Warner, F. L. Purinton, C. E. Downie, B. J. Chandler, A. H. Allen, Walter Hickey, Robert L. Tedford, Fred Towner, N. H. Hilton, Rolla Rays, W. H. Spurgeon Jr., J. K. Hermon, R. O. Winckler, A. E. Emison, R. R. Miles, A. J. Crookshank, J. R. Porter, Robert Simon, Edward McWilliams, J. L. Wheeler, Edwin C. Nelson, J. S. Smart, G. J. Daley, Paul Guyton, M. B. Lacy, Otto Haan, Joe Parsons, H. B. Van Dien, R. W. Townsend, C. V. Doty, John Harvey, C. D. Holmes Jr., Clyde Walker, A. G. Flagg, Jack Oliver, J. E. Liebig, J. E. Paul, T. B. Talbert, C. E. Walker, Fred Newcomb, E. T. Mater, Frank H. Patterson, E. H. Cockingham, Mrs. Geo. C. Perkins, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Harwood and Arthur Lyon.

Community Players

Entertaining as was the program planned by Mrs. J. M. Cloyes for the edification of Community Players gathered last night at the Barn, it yielded first place in the interest of those assembled, to discussions of the ticket sales for "The Dover Road," first play to be given under the new director, Miss Eloise Sterling, formerly with the Pasadena Community Players.

While the crowd at The Barn was not so large as usual because of the number of counter-attractions, it seemed to make up in enthusiasm for the lack in numbers. And when Robert Shafer, as president, outlined the plans for the seat sale as well as future play plans, he met with generous offers of aid in putting the program over.

Individual members will make every effort to further the ticket sales for the four night production to be given next week at the Ebell auditorium, beginning Wednesday night. Everyone was interested in the announcement that "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" Jerome K. Jerome's phenomenal success, would be the next play to be presented under Miss Sterling's direction. To offer every aid to the director, who is a newcomer to the city, a casting committee was created to aid her in the discovery and selection of promising material for her cast. This will consist of Ernest Crozier Phillips whose press of school duties preclude his continuing as the Players' director, Arthur Collins and Mrs. Marshall Harolds, with four members to be appointed at their discretion.

As a courtesy to the schools, it was decided to put pupil tickets on sale for balcony seats at each of next week's performances, at 50 cents each. It is thought that many young people of the city schools will appreciate this lowering of rates.

With such matters of business disposed of, Arthur Collins, head of the program committee, introduced Mrs. Cloyes as the director of the evening's delightful entertainment.

Mrs. Cloyes had a capable group in her February committee, some of them offering music, some drama and some, the more prosaic but equally valuable aid in the kitchen. Miss Leonora Tompkins and Miss Dorothea Smith furnished delightful musical entertainment. Miss Smith opened the program with a song group, Rogers' "At Parting" and the gay rhythms of "The Little Damsel" both sung very charmingly with Miss Tompkins at the piano. The latter then presented a single piano solo, "Venetian Barcarole" by Godard, executed with her usual satisfying technique and expression.

Stewart Walker's highly diverting skit, "The Vexed Naked Boy" was then given, with Miss Mabel Pruitt as "The Girl," Gene Douglas as "The Man" and Cecil Wilson as "The Brother." The little group had the lines of the play committed and the action worked up in excellent manner until the spectators almost rocked The Barn in their mirth.

The final offering of Mrs. Cloyes and her committee, while not so dramatic, was fully as enjoyable, for it consisted of coffee, piping hot with the wide variety of sandwiches brought by the members, and to top off the feast, the richest of Laguna chocolates which Mrs. Cloyes added as his share of the evening since he was unable to be present in person to aid the committee. The usual friendly hour followed with members gathered in constantly changing little groups to chat of events past, present and future. Among the latter were plans to stage a big party at the close of

Young Matron Extends Hospitality of Her Pretty Home

All in rose and lavender were the decorative effects of Mrs. Jack Remberg's pretty home on West Bishop street last night, when that charming young matron entertained at bridge in honor of Mrs. Harold Knight (Iris Head) of Santa Monica who is here for a visit in her girlhood home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Head.

Sweet peas in the prevailing colors were used to adorn the home while score cards distributed for the evening of bridge, pictured dainty ladies bearing clusters of the same flowers. In the card session, Miss Glenna-Jean Hill carried off honors, and incidentally, a saucy little housewife's ardon of colorful rubber, flower-trimmed, Miss Fritz Hobbs, scoring low, received a pretty jar of bath salts.

Bridge concluded, Mrs. Remberg substituted the daintiest of rose and orchid linens for the card table covers and served a two-course supper to her guests who included in addition to the honoree, Mrs. Knight, Mesdames Hugh Haley, Robert Jeffrey, Edward Ward, Fritz Hobbs, Minor Cox, Kenneth Baird and the Misses Ethel Smallwood, Wilma Silver, Anna Grace McElree, Louise Campbell, Miriam Baird, Katherine Buxton, Kathleen Trago, Isabel Wylie and Glenna-Jean Hill.

Pleasant Musicals In New Studio Rooms

Madame Manuela V. Budrow, well known Spanish prima donna, was hostess to a large number of pupils last Monday evening on the occasion of the opening of her new studio in the Greenleaf building where she recently made the change to more spacious quarters, as she needed more room. The studio was beautifully decorated with pink carnations, which harmonized charmingly with the blue and gold of the furnishings and tapestry.

Evening hours passed happily with games and a short musical program furnished by some of the talented students, including Mrs. Evelyn Getty, Mrs. Ruth Madriener, Miss Hazel Miller, Miss Louise Schmidt, Miss Virginia Bailey, Miss Nada Smith, and Mesdames Robert Bradford, Henry Schroeder and Harold E. Wahlberg, director and teacher of the high school and junior college glee clubs of the Fullerton high school.

Other students invited besides those mentioned were the Misses Helen Grinn, Grace Kister, Elizabeth Siegel, Helen Allen, Edwin Randall, Blanche Hillman, Catherine Macoon, Annette Sansinena, Josephine Taylor and Donald Ward and Edward Delgado and Mrs. Gold Lindauer. Mrs. Harold Wahlberg and Mrs. Cooper were guests of the evening.

At the close of the evening's pleasures, dainty refreshments were served.

Madame Budrow is justly proud of the steady advancement of her pupils, who are in constant demand for musical programs before clubs and other organizations.

Those aiding Mrs. Cloyes in making the evening such a success, in addition to those already named, were Miss Gallene Finley, Miss Margaret Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horne and Robert Northcross who had such prizes in dainty washing as head of the January committee, that he put his knowledge and skill to use again last night.

Shrine Club Officers Greeted with Wives At Smith Home

As a delightful opening of the year's social events in Orange county Shrinodome, was the pleasant party at which Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Smith last night entertained the club officers of the present year together with officers of last year and the wives of all members of the group, at their home, 129 South Broadway.

As president of the county Shrine club, the host brought a few business matters to the attention of his official family ere the evening's entertainment of court whist was introduced. Each session and as were asked to assist Mr. Smith in naming other committeemen to carry on Shrine affairs for 1926. These members will be announced soon, as will details of social activities which will include a mid-February party in Fullerton, a March affair at Anaheim and a get-together for Shrine club members only, in April.

A unique feature of the evening was the placing of the refreshment hour between the business session and the round of cards and Mrs. Smith was assisted in serving delectable cake, ice cream, coffee and nuts, by her daughter, Mrs. George Osterman. The tables were most attractive with pretty linens and vari-tinted sweet peas grown in the garden of the Smith home.

Court whist offered a gay interval which continued until long after the midnight hour and yielded attractive prizes. Mrs. Herbert Davis, scoring high, received an etched crystal compote while a plate scraper went to Miss Ora Barnes as consolation. H. H. Williamson of Costa Mesa received a Gouda pottery ash tray and a deck of playing cards composed George Goodwin.

Enjoying the hospitality of their president and Mrs. Smith were Mr. and Mrs. George Osterman, Miss Ora Barnes of Fullerton, the wives of the group of officers and the officers themselves, including the "bachelor member," Otto Evans of Fullerton, chairman of Al Malaikah relations committee; H. H. Williamson, Costa Mesa, chairman of new and old station; Willard Smith, Orange, chairman of charity and relief; L. W. Newell, Yorba Linda, chairman of membership; F. Carl Mock, Santa Ana, chairman of entertainment; J. O. Pyle, Huntington Beach, chairman of reception; J. P. Newly-weds Surprised At Gay Charivari

A merry charivari was given to Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ball of 1317 South Van Ness avenue Wednesday evening by a group of their neighbors and friends, who after making the night vocal for a period with their tin pans and other musical(?) instruments, were invited inside to further enjoy themselves.

The young people were married Jan. 17 in their beautiful new home, which the young groom had prepared for his bride. The groom's father, the Rev. Mr. Ball of Bolsa, officiated at the ceremony.

After merry games had been enjoyed, the newly-weds were presented with a handsome silver sandwich tray by their friends, the gift being presented by Charles Dixon. Mr. Ball responded to the presentation with appropriate remarks. Mrs. Dixon gave the bride a beautiful bouquet of sweet peas. The guests were prepared with peaches and whipped cream which were served with delicious cake.

Those who showered the young couple with hearty congratulations and wished them happiness in their new home included Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Layton, Mr. and Mrs. E. Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Swan, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Coughlin, Mrs. Ruth Roper, Mrs. Nellie Clark, Mrs. Betty Wendel, Miss Ruth Larson and Miss Mildred Swan.

Mr. Ball is in business in the Nuway store on West Fourth street.

Wedding Bells Chime Merrily for Two Young Brides

Bach-Browne
When Mrs. Clyde Bach responded last night to a ring at the front door of the Bach home, 832 Garfield street, it was to meet the announcement that Mr. and Mrs. La Verne Brown were calling. And it was in this unique fashion that Mr. and Mrs. Bach's daughter Dorothy, chose to announce her marriage to La Verne Browne, well-known young man of Orange and son of the Edwin J. Brownes of that city.

Needless to say, a warm welcome was extended the smiling young people who had been wedded in Los Angeles while guests of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Russell, former Santa Ana. The betrothal of Miss Bach and Mr. Browne was announced just a few days ago at a charming little evening party given by Mrs. Bach. Friends were anticipating the wedding as an event of the near future, but even the two sets of parents were surprised when it came so soon.

Miss Bach accompanied Mr. Browne to Los Angeles yesterday morning, planning to spend the day with Mrs. Russell and return last night with Mr. Browne's duties with the Standard Oil company were ended for the day. But a sudden impulse led them to the Second Presbyterian church whose pastor, the Rev. E. R. Lucas, read the impressive wedding rites yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Young Mr. and Mrs. Browne are allowing their future plans to be guided by a pending promotion of the bridegroom, which their parents hope, may bring them to this locality to reside.

Hampson-Alderman
Coming as a complete surprise to his many friends and former schoolmates in this city, was the announcement made today of the wedding yesterday morning at the Church of the Messiah, of Raymond Ellis Alderman and Miss Mary Ruth Hampson of Pasadena.

The ceremony was at 10:30 o'clock and was witnessed by a little group of close relatives of the young people, including Mr. Alderman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee L. Alderman of 1073 West Second street. The solemn wedding service was read by the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, rector of the church.

Miss Hampson was attired in a smart gown of soft blue silk crepe with which she carried roses and sweet peas. She was attended by Mrs. W. G. Wilson of Long Beach as honor matron while Mr. Wilson assisted Mr. Alderman as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony young Mr. and Mrs. Alderman departed on a motor honeymoon northwards, and will spend part of the time with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. C. Hampson of Tulare. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends in Pasadena where Mr. Alderman is connected with the Los Angeles board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific Coast.

A graduate of Polytechnic high school here, Mr. Alderman was prominent in all school activities especially athletics. During his civil engineering course at California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, he maintained his scholastic and athletic record, and in his senior year was captain of the university football team. He is a member of the national engineering fraternity.

Mother and Daughter Join in Presenting Pretty Luncheon

When Mrs. Charles L. Johnson and her daughter, Mrs. W. Paul Johnson, joined yesterday in presenting a delightful luncheon, they complimented two close friends of former days in Osceola, Iowa, Mrs. L. E. Crist and Mrs. Sadie Clevenger who have been enjoying the winter months in southern California. The luncheon also marked the climax of a round of social courtesies extended the prominent Osceola matrons during their stay, since Mrs. Crist and her husband, Senator L. E. Crist, plan to bring their visit to a conclusion next Sunday, although Mrs. Clevenger will remain for a more extended stay in Long Beach where the visitors have been pleasantly located.

Mother and daughter employed an artistic arrangement of orchid and yellow as the color motif for the pretty 1 o'clock luncheon. Guests found their places at one long table where orchid sweet peas and yellow daisies were nestled in the petals of a great orchid rose centering the board. Place cards, nut cups and other dainty appointments, conformed to the chosen color harmony. In serving, the hostesses were aided by Miss Dorothy Ayers of Los Angeles. Following the delectable course luncheon, the afternoon was devoted to lively reminiscences of days when hostesses and guests were residents of the Iowa City.

Those gathered to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Paul Johnson, were the honor guests, Mrs. Clevenger and Mrs. Crist. Mrs. Emil Jari of Hollywood, Mrs. Romaine Ayers, Mrs. Raymond Ayers, Mrs. Grace Whitmore and Miss Dorothy Ayers, Los Angeles; Mrs. Carrie Fluke, Mrs. Ira Fluke and Miss Vera Fluke, Riverside; Mrs. Marvin Wick and daughter Barbara, Hermosa Beach; Mrs. Edward Webster, Long Beach and Mrs. E. BULLET VICTIM BLAMES DREAM FOR RAMPAGE

Lawrence Tinney, 27, Watts negro, who was shot three times by Fullerton officers, near Northam crossing, yesterday, when he is alleged to have brandished a long knife and dared officers to take him, today was in the Orange county hospital, recovering from his wounds.

None of the three wounds will prove fatal, it was said. Two are in the shoulder and one in the leg. Officers Roy Green and E. R. Rudy, Fullerton, went to Northam, when told that a man, apparently crazy, was running amuck, threatening persons in the vicinity of the station.

The officers made an attempt to overpower the man by closing in from two sides, but he backed away and began throwing rocks at them, it was said.

Tinney told hospital attendants today that he was on his way to San Diego at the time of the shooting.

Tinney is said to have told Dr. H. E. Zaiser, superintendent of the hospital, that his entire family was wiped out in a race riot in New Orleans six years ago and that, on Wednesday night he had a dream, in which he saw his family murdered, and the terrible scenes of the rioting again were visioned in the dream.

As a result of the dream, he lost his mind, temporarily, he said, and believed that the race riot was being re-enacted. Therefore, he secured a long knife and was merely "protecting" himself when the officers arrived.

Fullerton officers have not filed a complaint against the man, so far, it was learned today.

TRAINS TO WHIZ.

DETROIT, Jan. 28.—The trains of the future will be as fast as airplanes are now, according to Frank H. Alfred, president of the Pere Marquette. Roadways will be built of concrete, he predicts, while the trains will run on roller bearings.

SAME OLD BAY.

PARIS, Jan. 28.—The Bay of Biscay is the same as ever. Investigation of a report that the bed of the bay had undergone a sudden upheaval revealed the story as a hoax, the government announces. A special survey ship was sent out to look over the bay.

BEQUESTS OMELET.

DIJON, France, Jan. 28.—On a tombstone near this city is carved this epitaph: "Here lies, mourned by his family and lamented by his patrons, Pierre Mercier, inventor of the famous Mercier omelet, the recipe for which his son, living in the Rue Dijon, is the sole proprietor."

80 CASES WHISKEY, THREE AUTOMOBILES AND ONE MAN CAPTURED IN COAST RAID

Eighty cases of fine Scotch liquor, three automobiles and one prisoner were captured by Sheriff Sam Jernigan and four deputy sheriffs several miles south of San Juan Capistrano shortly before daylight today, after a brief pistol battle between the officers and the driver of one of the machines.

Two or three men, occupants of two cars, escaped in the darkness during the battle.

The capture was made after the officers had watched a small boat unload its cargo on the beach, in a well concealed cove, just south of San Juan Capistrano, and the alleged bootleggers load their cars and start away.

The catch was the result of a tip, received by officers several days ago, that liquor would be unloaded, it was said, and also was due to the fact that Sheriff Jernigan, while going to San Diego, two days ago, noticed a fence torn down in a certain location, as though cars had been driven over it. He investigated and found where tire tracks met the water's edge.

Waited at Place

Deciding that rum runners were using the place, the sheriff, with his deputies, Dan Adams, Jesse Elliott, Don Mozley and Orla Moncrief, left here shortly after 10 o'clock last night, went to the place and waited.

After waiting for several hours, Adams and Moncrief slipped up to the cove and discovered three machines at the water's edge and a small boat anchored almost at the shore line. They reported back and the officers waited. When the liquor was all loaded, the truck led the other two machines from the cove. The officers rushed it and the driver, George Young, 27, surrendered.

The other two machines, roadsters, turned and made a break down the coast. At the same time, one of the drivers opened fire on the officers.

Fully 50 shots were fired as the driver vainly attempted to drive his machine along the beach. Reaching the end of the beach, at this point, the man jumped from his machine and ran over a hill, leaving the car to the officers. In the meantime, the driver of the other machine also had deserted his car and made his escape.

The deputies took charge of the cars, finding approximately 30 cases in the rear compartments of the two roadsters.

Young is being held in the county jail on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor. He probably will be arraigned today before Justice Kenneth Morrison.

Whiskey Stored Away

The liquor and automobiles were brought back to the sheriff's office, the whiskey has been stored in the new jail building. No disposition has been made of the automobiles.

The truck, which was captured, was a milk truck, with the words "Bliss Dairy," printed on its sides. Three empty milk cans were found on the truck.

The liquor captured is said to be among the finest to fall into the hands of officers here in several months.

MUCH GOOD IS DONE BY BABY CLINIC IN S. A.

Thin babies to be made fat, fat babies to be made thin, crying babies made to laugh, and worried mothers made happy.

These are some of the aims of the well baby clinic, held every Thursday afternoon, from 2 until 3 o'clock in the courthouse.

Mrs. J. H. Leibrick is in charge of the clinic. She welcomes mothers, who have not come to the clinic before, and, in numerous ways, makes them feel at home. Dr. R. P. Yeagle is the doctor who examines the babies and tells the mothers the best way in which to correct the various ailments to which small babies are subject.

Miss Clara Kringle is the nurse who weighs and measures each baby, thus determining whether it is necessary for the baby to be given a more thorough examination by Dr. Yeagle.

The mother of one of the clinic babies is the author of the following letter:

"Just a line to express my appreciation for the wonderful improvement in my baby."

"I don't believe that the mothers of Orange county appreciate what the clinic means and does for babies."

"I want to thank you very much for your kindness."

"MRS. A. J. BROWN, Anaheim."

Such letters as this, expressing the appreciation of the mothers for what the clinic has done for their children, are received daily. An other proof of the good done by the clinic is the increase in enrollment. Since January 1, when there were 51 babies registered, there has been an increase of 31 babies, making a total of 82.

Those connected with the county social service department suggest that all mothers bring their babies to the clinic, whether they are well or not, as there is no better way to see that children retain their health. Services offered at the clinic are free.

THEY GET THEIR MAN

These twin sisters, Emily and Clara Pierson, refused to be bluffed by a little thing like a murderer. As deputies of their brother, who is county sheriff of Cecil county, Md., they entered a lonely cabin, alone, and captured Jose Garcia, drunken Mexican section hand who was suspected of the slaying of his friend, Pierre Muldone. The photo shows the girls and their prisoner.

Mrs. Burrell Is Called to Rest

Mrs. Nieves Burrell, 63, died at her home, 112 French street, early this morning, following a short illness. Funeral services will be held from the Smith and Tutthill funeral parlors at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning and burial will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mrs. Burrell is survived by two sons and a daughter, John and Victor Burrell and Mrs. Allie Crawford, all of Santa Ana. Four sisters also survive. They are: Mrs. T. Callis, Oxnard; Mrs. S. Lopera, San Juan Capistrano; Mrs. P. Pico, San Juan Capistrano; and Mrs. K. Wattenburg, Santa Ana.

SCHOOL PEACE MOVE CHARGES TO BE PROBED

Declaring that they were unwilling to take any action on charges that pacifism was being taught in the Santa Ana schools, in connection with the so-called "Fellowship of Youth for Peace" movement, members of Santa Ana post, No. 131, American Legion, last night, voted to fully investigate the charges before making recommendations.

Joseph A. Plank, chef de gare of the Orange county voiture, La Societe des 40 Hommes et 3 Chevaux, brought up the question and charges at the meeting, pointing out that in his opinion, the movement was in direct contrast with the policy of national Legion organization and the war department. Plank asked that some action be taken.

Plank recounted his own late war experiences, when, he said, he had seen the time in his own organization when men were sent in as replacements without ever having fired a rifle, and declared that a lack of preparedness, such as the movement introduced in the schools, was direct cause for such instances.

"I don't think the American Legion should tolerate such propaganda in our schools," he finished. Investigation is urged.

Bert West, city attorney, and Stanley Reinhaus, also a lawyer, moved that a full investigation be made before the post take any action on the charges. West moved that a special committee be appointed to investigate, to report back at the next regular meeting of the post, which will be held February 11.

G. K. Scovel, commander, in commenting on the issue, declared that he was under the impression that opposition to the movement in Orange county had originated in Garden Grove and that the Better American federation, Los Angeles branch, also had come out against it.

Members of the post were told by West that the question was one for the post to settle, because the charges affected Santa Ana, and regardless of the fact whether the movement has spread to other parts of the county, it decidedly was a local question.

Because of advance publicity given on the subject for discussion, the meeting last night, was unusually well attended.

Stanley Reinhaus protested publicity given in advance of meetings, declaring that, in his opinion, Legion business was for Legion members and that it should not be aired before the meeting actually took place.

May See Picture.

Plans were discussed for securing a special Pacific Electric car to take a Santa Ana delegation of American Legion members and their friends to Hollywood, on February 16, to view the war picture, "The Big Parade." Members were told that a reduced rate would be given them and that the post could make a percentage on all fares sold for the special trip.

The athletic committee reported that plans were completed for the annual golf tournament, play in which will start tomorrow.

Report was made to the members that at the present time there were 10 times as many paid up members in the post as at the same time one year ago. This is due, it was explained to a number of new members and the fact that Elmer Schanell had been diligently at work collecting dues.

COL. MITCHELL IS PRAISED AT AIR CLUB MEET

FULLERTON, Jan. 29.—Col. William Mitchell had many friends present at the Brea Air club dinner meeting at the California hotel here last night. Capt. William Frye, of Long Beach, W. D. Waterman, of Ontario, and several other well known pilots recalled personal traits of the famous "flying colonel," and many times during the evening spontaneous applause followed assertions from speakers personally acquainted with Mitchell.

The meeting, one of a series sponsored by the Brea Air club for the purpose of encouraging civil aviation and urging the necessity of more and better landing fields, was attended by 75 members and friends of the air clubs at Brea and Long Beach. Speakers from outside points complimented Orange county on having such an optimistic interest in the future of flying.

Capt. Frye told of a comfortable trip by air yesterday to San Francisco and return in seven hours, reminding his listeners that a 36-hour schedule is the usual thing for ocean-to-ocean flights. He waxed sarcastic in referring to the comparative cost of a $40,000,000 battle ship and a $10,000 airplane, explaining how any small aircraft loaded with high explosive could sink the largest and most expensive man-of-war afloat. His talk was punctuated with witty and sarcastic references to the obsolete equipment in the air service, and in closing his remarks, exhorted his audience to take a more active interest in the nation's affairs by intelligent voting.

Other speakers were Joseph Skidmore, of Laguna Beach, W. N. Fox, of Long Beach, W. D. Waterman, of Ontario, Rev. Frank Dowling, of Placentia and W. D. Shaffer of Brea. Music was furnished by the Harmony quartet composed of Roy Fordham, Bill Dowling, Dr. Charles Petty and Charles Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Smith.

W. D. Waterman, who is president of the Professional Pilots' association, announced a debate on "Stunting" at the next meeting of his association, inviting the aviation enthusiasts to attend. Adjutant A. G. Cooke, of the Fullerton post of the American Legion, assured those present of the support of ex-service men in the development of flying for commercial purposes as well as for national defense, and told of an open meeting to be sponsored shortly by the local post at which speakers would discuss all angles of the flying game.

Commodore Frank Mason of the Brea Air club acted as toastmaster.

IS THE BANK RIGHT?

Editor Register:—The Orange County Trust and Savings bank sent out a beautiful 1926 calendar which contains a strikingly lifelike picture of the immortal Lincoln, and on it is printed a copy of the letter that the president wrote to Mrs. Bixby, of Boston, Mass., on Nov. 2, 1864, who lost five sons in the Civil war. "A letter so tender in sentiment, so exalted in spirit, so perfect in form that it will live as long as his Gettysburg speech." And the bank heads this letter as, "The World's Greatest Classic."

For the benefit of those who have never heard of this communication it is herewith reproduced:

"Dear Madam: I have been shown in the files of the war department a statement of the Adjutant general of Massachusetts that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously on the field of battle. I feel how weak and fruitless must be any words of mine which should attempt to beguile you from the grief of a loss so overwhelming. But I cannot refrain from tendering to you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the Republic they died to save. I pray that our Heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom."

Everybody will concede that the letter is beautifully written, and just what one would naturally expect to emanate from the tender heart of the great Lincoln, but strikingly sympathetic and appropriate as it is, it is not the "World's Greatest Classic," as described in the bank's calendar. Lincoln's Gettysburg speech surpasses it, so does Ingersoll's address to the soldiers at the close of the Civil war, a sentence or two being:

"They died for liberty; they died for us; they are at rest; they sleep beneath the shadows of the clouds, careless alike of sunshine or of storm, each in the windowless palace of rest. Earth may run with other wars; they are at rest."

Nothing in literature has ever surpassed this address. Indeed it was so highly prized by the Republic that it has been engraved in full on a national statue at Washington, there to remain for all time to come.

In the light of these epoch making speeches, how can the Orange County Trust and Savings bank claim Mrs. Bixby's letter as the "World's Greatest Classic?"

The bank has the floor!

SCHOOL BOARD TO TAKE UP PROBLEM

Whether or not the trustees of the city high school district, the boundaries of which include outlying elementary school districts, may organize a junior high school district within its own city school district, is a question confronting the Santa Ana school board. It was learned today at the board rooms. While some authorities, including the state superintendent of schools, holds that the city board of education, may proceed under the provisions of the California school law, others contend that the formation of such a junior high school district would necessarily include all of the territory covered by the high school district. This in turn, it was pointed out, would necessitate the approval of the various outlying elementary school boards before any action can be taken by the Santa Ana high school trustees.

In this connection it was reported that the question has been referred to the district attorney's office for an opinion.

DAMAGE SUITS RESULT FROM DEATH CRASH

Three damage suits, aggregating more than $76,000, were on file today in superior court, representing the price demanded for alleged negligence that killed three youthful members of a motoring party, near Santa Ana, last May 7.

The suits were an echo of a crossing wreck, in which a Pacific Electric car crushed an automobile, driven by Glenn A. Richards, 19, of Santa Ana, on the West Seventeenth street crossing. Richards, Raymond Kemp, 20, of Glendora, and Willa Lucille Bloomer, 17, of Villa Park, were killed. Marjorie Haines, 16, and her sister, Allene Haines, 22, of Orange, were seriously injured. Charles Ring, 20, of Santa Ana, also was hurt.

In a suit brought against the Pacific Electric company and the parents of young Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Otis E. Richards, of Santa Ana, judgment for $25,555 damages is demanded by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bloomer, parents of Lucille. The $555 added to the $25,000 claim for their daughter's death represents funeral expenses.

Miss Marjorie Haines, acting through her father and guardian, E. C. Haines, asks $25,477.90 damages. Her sister, Allene, wants $25,610.40. Both girls still are suffering from the effects of the disaster, they claim. Marjorie, who was unconscious in a Santa Ana hospital for 20 days after the wreck, sustained severe brain concussion beside a torn scalp and numerous bruises and lacerations. Allene suffered a broken arm, cuts and bruises and concussion. She was in a hospital for two months and was confined to her bed at home after that, it is alleged.

Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel, of Santa Ana, represent the plaintiffs.

The damage complaints charge negligence on the part of both the railroad motorman, R. R. Reamer, and young Richards, who was killed at the wheel of his automobile. The automobile, it is alleged, was traveling over the crossing at a speed of at least 30 miles per hour. The trolley car was making 45 miles per hour, it is claimed, and did not sound a warning of any kind. Neither was there a warning signal at the crossing, the plaintiffs allege.

The young folks were on their way to a skating rink in Los Alamitos, when the wreck occurred.

DENTIST AND WIFE BROUGHT TO TEARS

Dr. Vernon G. Blythe, Santa Ana dentist, and his wife, Eleanor, who is suing him for divorce, were both weeping today before the close of court proceedings which decided temporary custody of their two children.

Mrs. Blythe, who already had possession of the youngest child, was awarded custody of the other, also. The dentist broke down on the witness stand, when speaking of his 5-year-old son, and continued to weep as the court declared that so young a child should be with its mother.

Then Judge E. J. Marks said that Dr. Blythe might have possession of the boy on Saturdays and Sundays temporarily, until the Blythe divorce suit is heard, February 13, and the matter of custody permanently settled. Mrs. Blythe then wept and revealed signs of deep agitation. She was still weeping as she left the hall of records.

The Blythes separated last Saturday. Mrs. Blythe asks a decree and custody of the children, with suitable alimony, claiming her husband has an income of $1000 a month and property valued at $100,000.

He testified today that his income has been but $300 per month for the last year, his health forcing him to spend two days a week away from his office. Judge Marks made a

935 HOURS IN AIR MARK SET FOR 1925 BY HOWARD FEY

Lieutenant at San Antonio Rides in Sky More Than Twice Around Globe

HE FLIES HERE ON VISIT TO PARENTS

Army Officer Is Graduate of Poly High School and University of California

Soaring among the clouds for a total of 935 hours and 20 minutes during the year 1925, Lt. Howard M. Fey, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Fey, of Santa Ana, is holder of the world's record for flying hours in 12 consecutive months.

Lieutenant Fey, a graduate of the Santa Ana high school, class of 1919, and of the University of California in 1923, is well known in Santa Ana and has a host of friends among the younger set. At present he is stationed at Brooks field, San Antonio, Tex., and instructs students in the Air Service Primary Flying school.

A recent issue of the San Antonio Light had the following to say of the Santa Ana youth:

Record Set for 1925
Although he did not surpass the Brooks field records of other years, Lt. Howard M. Fey is believed to have set a world's record for flying hours in 1925 by flying 935 hours and 20 minutes during the year.

"His record includes time spent instructing students in the Air Service Primary Flying school at Brooks field, distance flights and other flying done in 1925.
"He flew 235 hours longer than a naval pilot for whom a new world's record was claimed after he had flown 700 hours.

"Lieutenant Fey's flying time for the year is equal to 39 full days, or practically one full day in every nine spent in the air by the flier.

"He flew over two and one-half hours on the average for every day of the year and traveled by air farther than twice round the world.

High Average for Year
He did not make any exceptionally high record for any month, but had a high average for the year.

"In January, Lieutenant Fey flew 92 hours and 10 minutes and in February his record was 91 hours and 35 minutes.

"Continuing through the year, his time by months was $5.50 for March, $8.10 for April, $9.25 for May, 78 for June, 69.45 for July, 62.55 for August, 66.45 for September, 75.35 for October, 73.10 for November and 62 for December.

U. S. TRAVEL TO EUROPE SHOWS STEADY CLIMB

Last year not less than 350,000 Americans, mostly of the leisured class, supplied with fat pocket-books, left America for foreign countries on pleasure tours, according to B. A. Lechner, division passenger agent of the travel department of the American Railway Express company, who today visited Santa Ana on matters connected with his office.

Instead of diminishing, the foreign travel out of America is steadily increasing, Lechner declared, adding that as a result of the increase, it has been necessary to augment the office personnel of the various express company's offices in Europe.

Today, he went on, the personnel of the Paris office numbers not less than 214 persons, more than half of whom are Americans, trained in American offices. The London office has an office force of 125 persons, while the personnel in Berlin, Vienna, Rome and other leading European cities have been increased accordingly, to meet new demands.

Continuing through the year, his time by months was $5.50 for March, $8.10 for April, $9.25 for May, 78 for June, 69.45 for July, 62.55 for August, 66.45 for September, 75.35 for October, 73.10 for November and 62 for December.

Laundry Soap Is Used In Making Mission Models

A new and unique use for ordinary laundry soap has been discovered by the pupils of the low eighth grade of the Frances E. Willard junior high school, under the direction of their instructor, Lyle B. Mitchell, a visit to the school building revealed today.

In order to put life into the study of California history, the students have been carving a set of Pacific coast missions out of soap. A few touches with the paint brush make them quite realistic, giving them the desired adobe color.

Included among the miniature missions on display in the exhibit case are those of San Francisco Solano, Santa Inez, San Buenaventura, San Fernando, San Xavier, Carmel and San Gabriel.

Prisoner Sent To School For Feeble Minded

Because A. S. Lounsbury is a mental defective, in the opinion of the Paris office physicians, he was sent to the state school for feeble-minded today by Superior Judge E. J. Marks, instead of being sent to San Quentin for check kiting.

Lounsbury, who was captured in Phoenix, Ariz., after passing a worthless $25 check in Santa Ana, was placed on probation for three years and committed, meanwhile, to the Sonoma institution. Drs. Zaiser and Stanton testified that he was an epileptic and below par mentally.

GARDEN GROVE LIONS GUESTS OF LOCAL DEN

With Dr. C. C. Violett officiating as chairman, the Garden Grove Lions club put on a program at the meeting yesterday of the Santa Ana den, at St. Ann's Inn. A number of members of the Garden Grove club attended, including Charles Arrowsmith, president of the organization, who presided over the meeting for a brief period.

Musical numbers were offered by "The Garden Aggravators," an orchestra composed of Miss Kate Kentworth, piano; Miss Esther Kirwin, violin; and Harry Harris, drums. Jazz and classical numbers were given.

Readings were given by Miss Velma King. Her numbers included "William," the Angelic Child and "Rose's Curiosity," the later an Italian piece.

Lucile Conway entertained with interpretative dances and responded to an encore by giving an exhibition of the Charleston.

Brief addresses were made by Arrowsmith and by Fritz Gallene, of the visiting club.

Mysterious Shot Baffling Police

Police are searching for a clue to a mysterious shot which was fired from an automobile, at another automobile as the two sped past Third and Sycamore streets, last night, according to a report made to the police.

Persons on the street were under the impression that officers were chasing a machine loaded with liquor, it was said, as one of the men in the leading machine is said to have thrown a bottle out, allowing it to crash on the pavement.

No city officer was connected with the alleged chase, Claude Rogers, city marshal, said today. He is at a loss to know the meaning of the shooting, he said.

DISTRIBUTE 32 HEADS WATER FOR IRRIGATION

Santa Ana Valley Company Is One Week Behind in Filling Applications

The Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company is distributing 32 heads of irrigation water at this time, according to an announcement today by Ozro Mansur, secretary.

Approximately 20 heads are being taken from the Santa Ana river and the remainder is developed from pumps the company is operating, seven in number.

The flow of the river is about what it was at this time last year, and will not be increased until there are more rains or until more snow falls on the watershed.

Water is still on application, but there is a big demand, because farmers are irrigating heavily at this time to take care of the possible situation of a severe shortage in the rainfall this year. The company is about one week behind applications—in other words, it is about one week after an application is filed before the applicant gets water.

The service is limited to one and one-half hours to the share for a full head of 100 miners' inches, charge is 50 cents an hour for a head.

The company has three wells on the edge of the river from which the pump equipment is drawn each winter because of the liability of flood waters flooding the wells. The summer supply will be augmented by these wells, for they will be put on the pump as soon as the rainy season has passed.

PROGRAM GIVEN BY APOLLO CLUB

Apollo club students in Santa Ana polytechnic high school were entertained yesterday afternoon by a special musical program before an open meeting in the school music room.

Members of the Apollo club presented the numbers on the program. Mrs. Ione Peek played several piano selections and talked to the students on music.

The entertainment was declared one of the most elaborate that had been arranged by the music students of the Apollo club, advised by Miss Louise Mansfield, head of the music department.

Numbers on the program were violin quartet selections, played by Georgia Belle Walton, Lorene Porter, Dorothy Lutz and Rowena Newcomb; vocal solos, by Miss Virginia Bailey, Ronald Buell and William Sequin and instrumental numbers by Fayette Birtcher, Edgar Thomas and Henry French. The high school boys' quartet sang. The quartet is composed of Will Schleicher, Jack Lilly, Ferris Edgar and Clarence Ranney.

MISS STERLING IS LAUDED AS PLAY DIRECTOR

Ernest Crozier Phillips Praises Successor for Work with Presentation

With so much interest manifested in the forthcoming production of "The Dover Road," by the Santa Ana Community Players, an equal interest is being expressed daily in the personality and attainments of Miss Eloise Sterling, capable young Arizonan, who is directing the cast chosen to present the entertaining English comedy.

Those to whom the work of Miss Sterling may be new, will appreciate the opinion advanced by no less a person than Ernest Crozier Phillips, erstwhile director of the Players, who declares that, as a director, her efficiency is due not only to native dramatic power, but also to wide training and experience.

"As an interpreter of dramatic art, Miss Sterling has been identified with leading schools and colleges and in the capacity of actor and director, is quite prominently known in various community and little theater centers," declared Mr. Phillips, citing dramatic work of the director in Pasadena, Dallas and Chicago.

Miss Sterling is calling her cast for nightly rehearsals in preparation for the four night's run of "The Dover Road," which will open in the Ebell auditorium next Wednesday night. Members of the cast find that their interest in the production never wanes, even with the constant repetition of the lines.

"The Dover Road," written by A. A. Milne, is said to be especially scintillant and sparkling in its lines, as well as in its plot. A. A. Milne is considered, by critics, to be one of England's subtlest writers of comedy. In this play, he deals with modern social conditions in an unique manner. While carrying the lift and laughter of the humor, it also bears the literary touch of an artist, and in much of its whimsicality is strongly reminiscent of Sir James Barrie.

The choice of the play by the governing board of the Players has been commended highly by those who have witnessed the rehearsals, according to the former director, Mr. Phillips, who feels that the board thus will maintain the high standard of excellence in selection of dramatic offerings that has always characterized the offerings of the Santa Ana Community Players.

KERR IS AWARDED COURT JUDGMENT

Dr. Franklin Kerr, of Garden Grove, today was awarded judgment against Rush Meadows, alleged impostor attorney, regaining possession of the Kerr property that was deeded to Meadows at the time of Dr. Kerr's arrest on a charge of mailing poisoned candy to his wife.

Superior Judge E. J. Marks, who heard the case a few days ago, nounced his decision from the bench today. Although victorious over Meadows, Dr. Kerr did not succeed in winning his property back. A trust deed, issued to Meadows, which later passed into the hands of Emil Tietjen and the Security Trust and Savings bank, Los Angeles, was held to be a valid lien against the property.

Dr. Kerr, in his suit for recovery, charged that Meadows induced him to deed the property so that Meadows could raise bail for Dr. Kerr's release from jail and also finance the Kerr defense. Neither was done by Meadows, it was alleged.

Legion Members To Collect Papers

Tomorrow is American Legion paper day.

For the past several weeks, friends and relatives of members of the Santa Ana post, American Legion, have been saving old papers and magazines and these will be collected by members tomorrow to be sold. The money will go to the post.

Housewives all over the city who have old papers in their attics, cellars or anywhere in their houses are asked to place them on the front porches of their homes or on the curbing, just outside, early tomorrow morning. Trucks will be there to pick them up and take them to the Legion home.

The local post is expecting to make a large sum of money from the sale of the papers, and the entire city has been asked to co-operate.

Gorman Is Speed Skate Champion

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 29.—Charlie Gorman, Canadian star, is the new world's outdoor speed skating champion, as a result of his victory yesterday in the quarter mile and five mile finals.

Gorman collapsed at the finish of the five mile race, but not until he had broken the tape for the final victory that gave him a total of 140 points.

SCHOOL CLINIC IN N. Y. PROVES TO BE SUCCESS

Followed with considerable interest in Santa Ana school circles, according to H. G. Nelson, principal of the Julia C. Lathrop junior high school, are results reported by the bureau of child guidance, a sort of psychiatric clinic, maintained by the New York city board of education for the purpose of adjusting abnormal students in their work.

In a report, covering the activities of the clinic, Dr. Stephen P. Jewitt, director of the bureau of child guidance, states that the importance of mental hygiene, particularly in adolescence, had increased enormously within the last five years.

The adolescent period in the mental life of a boy or girl is its most important stage, it is asserted and efforts are being made to discover and remove any nervous and mental defects that may be present at that time. Failing correction, those engaged in the work can detect abnormalities and so equip themselves to deal with them.

Dr. Jewitt stresses the importance of an impersonal attitude, on the part of a teacher, in dealing with problem cases, saying that the teacher should not pass any moral judgments on the conduct of a child, nor consider the child a sinner who must undergo punishment for his misdeeds.

Each Case Different
The director points out that the attitude of his bureau is that of a scientific investigator, trying to discover the basis of a conduct problem so that it may help the child with his or her work. Psychiatry is no more a panacea than medicine, the report states, adding that there is no specific treatment applicable to all cases, for each case is different.

Several cases are cited to illustrate the method employed by the bureau. One boy was reported to be exceptionally lazy. The psychological examination proved that the boy's intelligence was above the average. A thorough examination developed that he was physically unable to do his work. The clinic prescribed medical treatment and thereafter the boy's health and scholastic standing improved.

The fact that the members of the organization do not take sufficient interest in the annual session to appear in person, or to be represented by proxy, is taken as an indication of their satisfaction with the manner in which the business of the big institution is conducted by the board of directors and officers.

The board is composed of J. N. Paxton, W. A. Greenleaf, I. L. Marchant, A. M. Robinson and C. A. Palmer.

RAYMER IS MOVING INTO HOME IN S. A.

George Raymer, of Fullerton, who will assume the duties of secretary of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce here Monday, February 1, was engaged today in moving from Fullerton to 1325 North Barton street, this city. Raymer will leave Sunday on the excursion to Boulder dam, for the purpose of acquainting himself with Boulder canyon and Black canyon, on the Colorado, both of which are mentioned as possible locations for the government project for flood control of the Colorado.

ADOPT REPORT URGING COUNTY BOARD TO BUY FAIR LOCATION

Site Near Hospital Recommended by Associated Commerce Bodies

ADVISE TRACT OF 40 TO 60 ACRES

George Reid Tells Plans For This Year's Anaheim Valencia Display

By adoption of a report by a special committee, appointed for the purpose of making investigations for a county fair site, the Associated Chambers of Commerce, meeting in the McFarland cafe, in Fullerton, last night recommended to the board of supervisors immediate purchase of a tract of ground of 40 to 60 acres in the vicinity of the county hospital; recommended the appointment of a commission of five members, to execute plans for improvement of the site; the appointment of a country planning and zoning committee, and that the supervisors acquire recreational areas of beach property for the use and enjoyment of the public.

Suggestion was made by the committee that the California Valencia Orange show and the Orange County fair be consolidated into one mammoth exhibit and fair, to be held during the first part of September each year.

In its original report, the committee recommended the purchase of a tract of 20 or 40 acres, in the location indicated, but the proposed acreage was changed by motion of A. M. Stanley, secretary of the Orange County Farm bureau, speakers having previously said that the park should not be less than 40 acres, with 60 being preferable.

Could Improve Park
Pointing the way to use of the fair grounds for county-wide affairs, the committee recommends "that as time goes by, said park area be developed and improved, to include an auditorium, a county large conventions, a county swimming pool, picnic grounds and improvements for other general public and community purposes, and that said park be used for events during the year, as a year-round recreational park." Management of the park would be placed in the hands of the commission suggested.

Appointment of a county planning and zoning commission is believed necessary, by the committee, for general supervision of highway development, park and recreational systems and to "shape the entire planning system in accord with modern needs."

Speakers predicted that, in a few years, Orange county would be solidly built up, almost as one city, and they pointed out that park grounds near the intersection of the state highway with Placentia avenue, near the county hospital, would be a valuable asset to the county.

According to Judge L. F. Coburn, a 60-acre tract in that location can be purchased for $120,000.

D. Eymann Huff, manager of the Hewes Realty corporation, offered a tract of 64 acres in the El Modena district for $90,000 and asked consideration of this site.

The committee making the recommendations was composed of Thomas E. Pickens, of Placentia, who made the report; V. D. John-Dozers Never Quite Get the Idea!

To be absolutely frank about it, men don't exactly exceed the speed limit rushing to buy a needed article of clothing just because it can be bought one day for a little less than on the following day. It's all right—it's just like smoking, it's a habit and nobody's particular business. But some fellows

DO overlook good chances along this line. They're not exactly ASLEEP on it, but maybe DOZING a little. A clothing merchant, Vandermaast's for example, put out some really fine buys around inventory time. It's considered good business to take less on many things then, to reduce stock, make space for Spring goods, and keep money a little more active. It isn't a skin game—just the opposite—a fact of business. If a man understands this, all right, he buys in good faith and lots of them do and are pleased. Otherwise, he may not get the idea of a "sale," and the chance passes by. Right now, a sale condition exists at Vandermaast's—it will have served its purpose within a short time—so you can, if you like what's offered, pick up many good articles of wear at real low prices.

YOU wouldn't think that PEOPLE of ordinary MEANS who insisted on PAYING CASH for EVERYTHING would ever ACCUMULATE much. THEY DON'T! EASY TERMS, unabused, is SAVING, like banking. VANDERMAST'S TEN-PAY PLAN has been A SUCCESS, because it ENABLES many men to DRESS BETTER. Half of our CUSTOMERS are not INTERESTED in it, but it is THERE for the other half. THE OTHER half pays the SAME PRICE as the CASH HALF; there is NO DISCRIMINATION. IT IS purely a MATTER OF SERVICE. THANK YOU!

WEST COAST WALKER
From advance information the five-act bill of vaudeville and feature picture which opens at the West Coast-Walker theater tonight is the best that has played at this theater for some time.

Heading the vaudeville bill is Hip Raymond and company, which is a treat for the kiddies as well as for the grownups. Hip was a clown at the New York Hippodrome and there he perfected himself in the art of pantomime. He is ably assisted by pretty Mildred Maisson, a versatile young lady and a dainty dancer.

It is seldom that one finds a single individual who possesses more versatility than Larry Dowd who appears in the two-spot. He has a refreshing repertoire of songs and stories and is one of the few comedians appearing in vaudeville who could successfully do a straight singing act.

Doyle and Day Sisters introduce harmony singing, ukuleles, jazz numbers, piano and dancing. If you want to see two of America's prettiest ladies, don't miss this show. They are not only beautiful, but are talented in dancing, singing and music.

James Wright and company have an act entitled "Camping" in which a little bit of everything in vaudeville is presented. The act consists of two men and three ladies who offer some of everything including singing, talking, dancing, music, whistling and imitations.

The Tiller sisters in an act entitled "More Power to 'Em," do comedy songs and talk. These sisters, who are two of vaudeville's most beautiful women, have their songs written especially for them. They have made a reputation to their credit in the East and are now presenting their talent to the West. On the screen is "The Yankee Senor." It is the story of an American engineer who was determined to build a railroad spur in Mexico. Completing the screen entertainment is a Charlie Chase comedy and an Aesop's Fables.

WEST END THEATER

That much abused term "all star" may legitimately be applied to the notable cast of film favorites who help make D. W. Griffith's latest photodrama, "That Royle Girl," one of the current season's outstanding successes which opens at the West End tomorrow.

Carol Dempster, whose wistful beauty and sensitive acting has won her an enviable following, portrays the title role in this vivid film version of Edwin Balmer's striking novel of life in the jazz belt and underworld of Chicago.

W. C. Fields, the famous Folies comedian, who won the wholehearted approval of both critics and public with his inimitable characterization in "Sally of the Sawdust," again plays the no-account "Pop" of Miss Dempster.

James Kirkwood, prominent leading man both on the stage and on the screen, has the principal male role—that of the strait-laced New England district attorney who falls in love with "that Royle girl."

Harrison Ford, the fourth featured member of the cast, impersonates the important character of Fred Kettler, the flashy and popular jazz composer and dance orchestra leader. The supporting players include Marie Chambers, Paul Everett, George Rigas and Florence Auer.

YOST THEATER

No screen fan should miss the opportunity of seeing Reginald Denny as he romps through the title role of "What Happened to Jones," at the Yost theater.

Here is a picture that contains all the essentials of successful farce, portrayed intelligently and with delicious humor, and lacking none of the fundamental rules of comedy.

The story is a good one, being a picturization of George Broadhurst's famous stage farce, and it is well and ably directed by William A. Selzer.

"What Happened to Jones," tells of the adventures and misadventures of Tom Jones, a wealthy bible manufacturer, whose reputation in town is of the very highest. On the night before his marriage, he is enticed into participating in a poker game with a few of his friends.

Judge of his horror, when, shortly after the game has started, it is interrupted by the police. Tom, in his attempts to escape, finds himself in a women's Turkish bath. From then on, the fun starts, gaining more and more hilarious headway as the picture progresses, until at the final fadeout, the audience is in one continual roar.

DRESSES ON $100

Miss Pauline Still, 17, of Chickasha, Okla., declares that $100 a year is enough for any girl to spend on clothes—except for shoes and winter coats. She makes her own clothes and won first prize in the International Style show at Chicago. She says, "make your own clothes and you'll hold your husband or sweetheart."

COUNTY BOARD URGED TO BUY FAIR LOCATION

son of Orange; S. W. Stanley, of Tustin; J. A. Armitage, of Huntington Beach, and George W. Reid, of Anaheim.

Discussing the suggestion that ocean front lands be purchased for parks, George T. Peabody, of Newport Beach, said that when adjustments are made on the tide lands on Newport Bay, the county would have a 40-acre tract back of Balboa Island that would not be of service for industrial and suggested that this piece could be utilized as a park. He asked the appointment of a committee to work out changes in the present tide land law, as it pertains to the county harbor, so that this tract could be used for park purposes. He was made chairman of such a committee, other members being Lew H. Wallace, of Newport Beach, and Elmer Jahraus, of Laguna.

Approximately six and one-half miles of county highway have been built in the last year, under the assessment district plan, at a cost of $122,000, according to a report made by J. A. Smiley, chairman of the good roads committee. Re-counting that San Bernardino county is to improve a county highway from Chino, through Carbon canyon, to the Orange county line, Smiley said that the Carbon canyon road from the county line to Olinia had been placed in good condition by the Orange county road department.

Mrs. Winnie L. Vilas, Orange county representative at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, advised the assemblage that approximately 40 persons are visiting her office daily. She said that visitors to the chamber are increasing in number and that the number calling for information is larger at the present time than at any time since the early part of 1924.

George Reid, secretary of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce and manager of the California Valencia Orange show, pointed out some of the activities in preparation for this year's exhibit and declared that by the time the fair has celebrated its sixteenth birthday anniversary it would be recognized as one of the biggest yearly displays in the state.

The address of welcome was made by F. C. Krause, of Fullerton, and response was by V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange County Chamber of Commerce. The February meeting of the county body will be held in Costa Mesa.

ROSS YOUNG
Ross Young of the New York Giants, star professional ball player is also a crack amateur golfer. Sounds strange, but it's true, for such are the rules of golf. In qualifying for the Texas open tourney, Young was one of the three medalists among the amateurs. He went so poorly in his first 18 holes of the tournament, being well up in the 80's, that he picked up.

Advise Women

to adopt new hygienic method and retain freshness this way; true protection; discards like tissue

LARGELY on medical advice, women are abandoning the old-time "sanitary pad" for a new way that supplants uncertainty with positive protection.

Sheer frocks and ill-timed social engagements no longer remain as worries. Lost days are fewer, and health better.

It is called "KOTEX." Ends the insecurity of the old-time sanitary pad. Five times as absorbent! And odorless—ends ALL fear of offending.

As easily disposed of as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Costs only a few cents. Eight in 10 better-class women employ it. Proves the risk of old ways.

POLY JUNIORS BEAT SOPHS IN HOCKEY FRAGAS

By ALFRED AULT

First of a series of interclass hockey matches at the Santa Ana high school was held yesterday with the result that the junior co-ed athletes defeated the underclass sophomore girls by a 7 to 0 score.

That gives the juniors a good start toward the interclass title but a double series involving six games must be played before any class captures the honors.

The crucial test between the strong senior team and the coming juniors will be decided this afternoon. It is conceded that these classes have the best chances. Next week the contests will be finished and then Miss Alverda West, girls' coach, will begin drill for the county matches.

If Miss Virginia Brannon, center forward for the juniors, can score the goals against the seniors that she did against the sophomores, the senior laurels may totter. She scored four goals and shared stellar honors with her team mates, Miss Gayle Aldwin and Miss Katherine Pierce.

Most of the offensive playing was carried into the sophomore territory by the winning "shinney" eleven. Despite their inexperience, the sophomore came back on several occasions to threaten the juniors. The Misses Sherrill Spurgeon and Gertrude Morris were outstanding sophomore players.

Willie Hoppe usually trains for a championship billiard match just as faithfully as any athlete conditions himself for an important contest.

BUILDERS' QUERIES ANSWERED

By Southern California Chapter, Associated General Contractors of America

Q. Will you please advise me if salt water sand can be used successfully in mixing concrete?

A. It is not advisable to use salt water sand for concrete.

Q. Will you kindly inform me of the principal things to investigate before buying a lot for a residence?

A. If you are convinced the lot is worth what you are paying for it, or the future value will be sufficient to justify an investment at this time, the main thing is to see that the party from whom you are making the purchase has a clear title to the property. If you will place the deal in escrow through a reliable title company, your interests will be protected along this line.

Q. Please answer the following: (A) What is the average life of a well-built California bungalow? (B) What amortization charge per $1000 is usually figured against same? (C) What are the usual repairs and upkeep charges?

A. (A)—The average life of a well-built California house is said to be from 15 to 20 years. The amortization charge per $1000 based on a life of 15 years, according to Bailey's tables, is 0.19313 per cent on the diminishing value each year. At the end of a 15 year period, the scrap value would equal four per cent. (C) The upkeep charges vary, depending upon the care taken of the property; however, one-half of one per cent would be about an average figure.

Q. How many months will it take to pay off a loan of $2900, payable at $35 per month, including interest at seven per cent? What will be the amount of interest paid?

A. It will take 113.12 months. The interest will be $1,059.20.

Q. Will you please advise me the most satisfactory method of laying linoleum, and what will be the cost for an average kitchen? A. The most satisfactory method of laying linoleum is to cement it to the wood floor. A good grade of linoleum, regardless of whether it is nailed down or cemented, will cost approximately $1.75 per square yard in place.

Q. I have built a mountain cabin, using wall board for the interior finish. I would like to treat the board to resemble hardwood. Can this be done?

A. Wall board may be coated with shellac and then varnished.

Q. Will you please advise me of what asphalt shingles are made?

A. Asphalt shingles are composed of a thickness of felt, saturated with asphalt, with another coat of asphalt on each side. On one of the surfaces, there is a layer of mica, crushed slate, gravel or similar substance. Although all asphalt shingles are of the same composition, there are different grades.

INSULL MEDAL IS PRESENTED TO J. G. RHODAY

J. G. Rhoday, substation operator at Katella, who has been awarded an Insull medal for resuscitation of a fellow employee of the Southern California Edison company.

J. G. Rhoday, substation operator for the Southern California Edison company, was honored at the luncheon of the Fullerton Rotary club Wednesday by receiving the Insull medal for having resuscitated his fellow worker, B. R. De Lanty, after the latter had been shocked and burned by an accidental contact with a 10,000-volt switch in the Katella substation, on the morning of March 30, 1925.

De Lanty was thrown from the bus structure on which he had been working to the floor below, a distance of approximately 12 feet. Rhoday, who was the operator on duty at the time, rushed to his assistance. He stripped the burning clothing from the man, receiving severe burns on his hands in doing so, and began at once to use the Schaefer prone pressure method of resuscitation.

This method has as its basic principle the stimulation of the natural action of the diaphragm which compels the air to enter and leave the lungs as in natural breathing. Knowledge of this method of reviving a victim of electric shock is part of the equipment which every operator for the Southern California Edison company must have. Rhoday, with the assistance of Chief Operator G. L. Ellsworth and Station Electrician H. Verloop continued the work and De Lanty was shortly revived. De Lanty, however, died nine days later as a result of the severe burns which he had received.

Samuel Insull, president of the Commonwealth Edison company, of Chicago, and an outstanding figure in the electrical industry, conceived the plan of presenting a medal to the public utility employee who used the training which he had received in the use of this method of renewing respiration, as a means of bringing any victim of shock back to life. Rhoday is the second Edison employee to receive the medal, the other having been earned by C. J. Gaertner, operator in the Santa Paula substation, for resuscitating a fellow worker, K. E. Kincaid, on Nov. 15, 1923.

NEW BRANCH OF TOASTMASTERS' CLUB PLANNED

Another section of the "Toastmasters' club is to be launched next Wednesday, according to Secretary R. C. Smedley, of the Y.M.C.A., who announced this morning that an organization meeting has been set for that date for the men who are interested in the club work.

The original Toastmasters' club, organized by the Y.M.C.A. educational committee about 16 months ago, has its membership fairly well filled, and its members, having had extensive experience, are doing more advanced work. A number of requests have been received from men who rate themselves as beginners, for a chance to start at the beginning and learn to speak in a convincing manner, it is declared. For the benefit of these, it is proposed to start the new club, which will operate as a second section of the Toastmasters' club.

The first meeting will be held Wednesday with supper at 6:30, followed by a discussion and hearing and show cause why bonds should not be issued upon the security of the unpaid assessments shown on said list.

The club will have the advantage of help from the members of the other club, as needed, and will enjoy the privileges both of instruction and practice, it is asserted. It will be limited to 25

JAZZ BLAMED FOR MARRIAGE RATE DECREASE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Over-marriage rate among young women and jazz are decreasing the unwillingness to become mothers, according to Dr. Beatrice McMullen, physical advisor of the Fullerton Junior college and high school, who will be one of the principal speakers at the midwinter meeting of the southern section of the California Osteopathic association, to be held here tomorrow, in the Alexandria hotel.

Dr. McMullen will discuss the health of girls before 500 doctors of osteopathy, following a special scientific research in scholastic work.

"Trying to keep up the endless round of dances and parties and endeavoring to maintain school activities, without the proper amount of rest is tearing down the physical structure of the modern girl," claims Dr. McMullen. "Girls spend their energies faster than they can develop them. Fifty per cent of the girls today are faced with under developed bodies at the marriageable age, making them poorly equipped to meet the duties of life. Conservation of the important years in the life of the modern girl is necessary if this womanhood waste is to be checked."

On the all-day program, which will close with the annual banquet, will appear notable osteopaths physicians, including Dr. Charles Spencer, one of the founders of the Los Angeles College of Osteopathy and a member of the state board of osteopathic examiners. Dr. Warren B. Davis, of Long Beach, will preside at the meeting.

Dr. Spencer foresees the American business man breaking down in health because of the living habits of the present civilization, together with the concentration of people in large cities. The high pressure under which we live, he says, tends to interrupt normal body processes.

men, and those who register for it first will have the first chance at the work.

The local Toastmasters' club has just assisted in organizing a similar club at Anaheim, which has started operations under auspices of the Anaheim Y.M.C.A.

"KERNELS"

BY THE COLONEL

HARRY WELCH TO PALM SPRINGS—headline in Newport Beach paper. Welch has palmed a great many things when it came to the Orange county harbor question, but this is the first time he has been known to pull this trick.

Today's booby prize should go to the Santa Ana real estate man, who, on the morning his wife was due in Los Angeles from the east, overslept, causing her to wait in Los Angeles all day.

But the kick of it is, that when he finally did get there to greet her, he told her he had an Iowa farmer for a prospect and that he had to get up early that morning to meet his customer who was wont to arise with the sun—AND he got away with it.

The way some of these Eastern tourists drive their automobiles over California roads, it's a wonder they ever get back to their home towns to brag on the Golden state.

Seated behind their big cars on a California road apparently gives some of them the same feeling a canary bird has when it is let out of its cage.

With Los Angeles yelling every day about their big "butter and egg men's" convention there, Santa Ana has 'em cheated to death with its bee-men convention. The beekeepers have been here three days now and not a one of them has been stung.

We'll wager that's more than the butter and egg men in Los Angeles can say.

The Prince of Wales' horse dropped dead under him the other day. Suicide, we'd call it. The poor horse had been trying for years to teach the prince to ride, and falling, apparently gave up in disgust.

Another day and another screen star has sued for divorce, but there's no news in that.

Bee men, in convention here, claim there is jazz in their product. "Not the kind found in booze, but a kind that really supplies the hankering many still have since prohibition went into effect." Well, that's advertising, we'd say.

And still they come: "The popularity of the young couple was shown by the large number of fiends at their wedding."

A. M. Kow, British scientist, says that in 50 years women will have smaller wardrobes. From the way they have been reducing their wearing apparel since the days of hoop skirts, we are not under the impression that it takes a great deal of brains to form such a conclusion.

There were only 10 murders in "Bloody Williamson" county, Illinois, in 1925, according to The Register. And the coroner of the county is bragging on it. Maybe he feels like he has earned a good long rest.

BOWLING with the CHAMPION

Jimmy Smith

MAKING SPLITS

Great batters often find their jinx in certain pitchers. In bowling the split is the nemesis of every past-timer. More harsh utterings are voiced when a split "turns up" than at any other time during a match.

The split is something that a bowler simply "runs" into ever now and then. In a way it's hard to guard against. It just pops up, that's all. Hitting the head pin full often results in a mean split. Not necessarily, though. For I've seen many strikes made in the same manner.

The breaks of the game, and bowling certainly has its breaks, invariably bring about a bad split. Sometimes a pin will "refuse" to fall after having "staggered" considerably. The result is, instead of getting nine pins on your initial attempt with a spare almost a certainty, you only get eight and have a mean split to "run down."

In trying for splits, I shoot a "thin" ball for the pin nearest to the center and farthest from the pit. I aim to hit or "shave it" on the outside (the gutter side) and thus send it toppling in the direction of the other pin. If the execution is perfect, a spare results.

Don't play it like you would a carom shot in billiards. For you aren't apt to meet with much success. The other way is by far the more practical.

Of course in case of a three-pin split, it's always advisable to try for two if the lineup is so you are pretty certain of cutting a pair down. It's well to be satisfied with two out of three.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Jan. 29.—The local Christian Endeavor society members were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Williams last Friday evening. Carl Hankey and Miss Thelma McGaugh won first prizes at dominoes. Next came a drawing contest, in which the Misses Mary McHenry and Polly Ross tied for first, and Sara Kate Ross took second place. Various games were then played, and later in the evening, ice cream and cake were served.

Those present were Thelma and Marie McGaugh, Merle Rosenbaum, Marguerite Errearte, Marie McHenry, Hazel Guilbert, Sara Kate and Polly Ross, Beatrice Allen, Mildred Congdon, Ruth Williams, Carl Hankey, Kern Thomas, Bill Rosenbaum, Robert Collins, John Landell, Bill Barnes, Johnnie Miguellana, Joe McGaugh, John Williams and Randolph Williams, Dr. and Mrs. Hugh McNinch, Mrs. William Bathgate and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Williams.

Mrs. Henry A. Stewart and son, Junior, were Saturday visitors in Santa Ana.

A surprise birthday dinner was given for Miss Sara Kate Ross by her mother, Mrs. Dave Ross, January 22. When she arrived home after spending the afternoon at the home of Miss Hazel Guilbert, she found her most intimate girl friends. Miss Ross received many lovely gifts. After the dinner, the girls attended the party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Williams.

Those present were Hazel Guilbert, Mary McHenry, Marie and Thelma McGaugh, Mildred Congdon, Marguerite Errearte, Beatrice Allen, Merle Rosenbaum, Ruth Williams, Polly Ross and the honoree, Sara Kate Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. George Forster and daughters, of Fullerton, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Forster at their home here on Sunday.

SEVEN BIG DAYS OF BARGAINS

Let Every Partition Be A FIRE WALL

THE average fire loss of this country amounts to the appalling sum of about two hundred and fifty million dollars annually.

Insurance statistics show that practically nine-tenths of all fires originate within the buildings.

How vitally important it is for you, then, to have fire-resistive walls and ceilings in your home as a means of preventing fire loss.

Buttress Wallboard Stops Fire!

This fire resistive building material has a hard, smooth surface and, being solid, does not permit a draft through it, but confines the fire to the room in which it starts. Buttress Wallboard is made of gypsum rock plaster compressed between two sheets of heavy paper. It is really a rock product—that's why it won't burn.

W. B. Sand-Finish for Wallboard

You can make your wallboard walls and ceilings look exactly like sand-finished plastered walls and ceilings by using Buttress W. B. Sand Finish. It comes in ten different shades and is applied with a brush like ordinary paint. Makes a waterproof surface that can be washed or cleaned without rubbing off.

When You Order Wallboard and "W. B." Finish From Your Lumber Dealer, Be Sure to Specify "BUTTRESS"

BUTTRESS MFG. CO. LOS ANGELES

BUTTRESS WALLBOARD is in no sense a temporary makeshift or a substitute for wood lath and plaster construction. It is just as durable as wood lath and plaster and has the added advantages of being fire resistive, a barrier to both heat and cold, and practically sound proof. It is good enough for a mansion—economical enough for a cottage. You should use it when you build.

HAD BREAKING OUT OF PIMPLES

On Face, Neck and Chest. Healed by Cuticura.

"For about a year I was troubled with a breaking out of pimples on my face, neck and chest. The skin was red and sore and I could hardly sleep at night because of the irritation. My clothing aggravated the breaking out on my chest and my face was disfigured.

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after the first day I used it I got relief. Then I purchased more and in about two months I was completely healed, after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment." De Molay Commending remarks for the impressive presentation of the second degree by the Santa Ana chapter I. O. O. F. hall, were expressed following presentation of the work before the Huntington Beach Masonic lodge, Wednesday night.

A meeting of the members of the DeMolay chapter has been called for 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening in the red room of the Santa Ana Masonic hall.

Plans are to be considered for arranging a benefit musical comedy in Santa Ana. Miss Rita Montague, dramatic director, of Riverside, will appear before the chapter. She will explain the method used by the Riverside DeMolay chapter in annual benefit performances.

Already plans for February's activities are being formulated. Invitation has been extended to the Santa Ana DeMolay members to attend a dance of the Daughters of Job, in Anaheim, Saturday, February 6.

The stated meeting of the chapter will be held on the second Saturday of February. It is tentatively arranged to give degrees to new candidates at the special meeting, February 27.

The degree team which went to Huntington Beach to give the DeMolay degree was composed of: Vice grand, Roy Denham; Virgil Reed, Paul Brown, George Walker, George Preble and Louis Dixon. After the ceremonies, the beach Masons served an oyster supper.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Members of the Calumpit auxiliary, No. 33, accompanied members of Calumpit camp to Pomona one night last week to attend the installation of the officers of Col. William G. Schrieber camp and auxiliary, No. 35. Past Com. W. W. Tantlinger was the installing officer.

Friday night, members went to Riverside to the installation, at which Past President Nannie H. Reed and the floor team of Calumpit auxiliary installed the officers of Lieutenant Bedwell auxiliary, No. 34. The local auxiliary drill team put on its drill.

Tuesday night, the regular business meeting was held at the G. A. R. hall. The meeting was presided over by President Bertha E. Dugdale. It was decided to adopt Ward 14 at Sawtelle in place of Ward 13, which was adopted last year.

One evening last week a tamale pie supper was served in the dining hall of G. A. R. hall. The proceeds of the supper were used to pay for the drums bought for the drum corps of Calumpit camp. A social session was enjoyed after the supper. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman, of Costa Mesa, rendered several numbers on the piano and the mandolin. Mr. Area sang two solos.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Scott on the guitar. Mr. Area and his daughter also performed some acrobatic feats, which were greatly enjoyed. At the close of the evening Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Cooper were escorted to the front of the room to the tune of Lohengrin's "Wedding March," where they were presented with a silver plate by Mrs. Frances Moulton, in token of the esteem in which they are held by their comrades and sisters. The occasion was their 25th wedding anniversary.

A number of members are planning a trip to Sawtelle to take gifts to those who are ill in Ward 14.

Knights of Pythias

At the regular meeting of Santa Ana lodge, No. 149, Knights of Pythias, held Wednesday evening, the rank of knight was conferred on Calvin Powers. The rank of page will be conferred on several candidates next Wednesday night at 7:45 o'clock, at M. W. of A. hall.

E. S. Gilbert of the insurance department, was a guest of Santa Ana lodge Wednesday night. Mr. Gilbert told of the progress being made by Pythian lodges in the northern part of the state, where he has been traveling recently. The entertainment committee reported that it has been successful in securing talent for the entertainment and dance, to be given February 24. Members are urged to attend. A good time is assured.

Mrs. Mary Greer gave a reading, entitled "Saturday in Our House," and as an encore, she read "Don't Quit." Miss Lola Aiken and Miss Lorene Turk gave a Spanish dance as a direct contrast to the "Charleston." Following the program was a social hour, ending with the serving of refreshments.

BOLSA

BOLSA, Jan. 29.—Questionnaires went out this week from the Bolsa school to the patrons of the district asking whether they wish their children to be given the diphtheria serum when the county physician comes to the local school in the near future.

One home in the Bolsa district is under quarantine at present for diphtheria. Theodore Warner, small son of Glen Warner, of Santa Ana has the disease and is at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warner. The case is said to be in very light form.

About 70 members of the Bolsa Community club enjoyed a social meeting Saturday evening, at which time the monthly dance was held. Sandwiches and coffee were served by the committee toward the close of the evening.

Sunday evening, a dancing class was held at the club hall and several persons, including Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Sebastian, of Smetzer; Roy Head and Frank Walker, of this place, were among the new pupils. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ross, and Mrs. Clyde Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Orel Hare are giving the lessons.

The club plans a basket supper next Saturday evening. This will not be an invitational affair as are the regular club social affairs.

Earl Gardner arrived home Sunday evening from Marysville, where he spent nearly three weeks assisting his brother-in-law, John Shutt, in getting settled on his recently purchased fruit ranch near that town. The Shutt like their new home very much, Mr. Gardner reports.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Stout visited Normand, their son, who is a patient in the Los Angeles hospital, Sunday, and found him improving. It has been necessary for Normand to take gas seven times since he has been under treatment for an injury to his knee, and the last time the operation was performed without an anesthetic.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seidmore and their daughter, Miss Amelia Seidmore, were among the guests at a birthday dinner given recently at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Frank Reiting, at Seal Beach honoring the anniversary of Mrs. Hewitt. The honoree is the mother of Mrs. Reiting and the sister of Mrs. Seidmore.

Mrs. Phil Treney began working the past week at the walnut house at Garden Grove.

Mrs. T. Banks and Mrs. Bradstreet, of Pawpaw, Ill., were Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson. They were accompanied by Verne and George Banks, also old friends of the Johnsons. The women of the party are spending several months in California and expect to return to Illinois in March. Mrs. Banks and Mrs. Bradstreet are neighbors in Pawpaw of Mr. and Mrs. J. Beamer, parents of Mrs. Johnson, who are spending the winter in the Johnson home.

Frank Johnson began work for an oil company in the Brea field the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harding had as dinner guests in their home Sunday, Mrs. Harding's mother, Mrs. E. S. Hill, of Santa Ana; her sister, Mrs. John Baker and Mr. Baker, of Long Beach, and her brother, Vernon Hill, Mrs. Hill and son of Smetzer.

CAVEMEN, TRUCKERS END SERIES SUNDAY

Billy Evans Says

It must be rather disconcerting to American light heavies to note the fuss that is being made over Georges Carpentier.

I believe I am conservative in venturing the opinion that there are at least a half dozen fighters of Carpentier's weight who could take him.

Despite this, American promoters are falling all over themselves in an effort to induce Carpentier to sign a fight contract at a fancy figure.

The popularity of Carpentier with promoters as well as fight fans can be attributed to color. In sport, color means the fellow who is different.

Battling Siki had color, literally and otherwise. Color in sport can assert itself in many ways.

Carpentier was the Gorgeous Georges, the matinee idol, the Orphan Man. He broke into the society columns as often as the sport page.

Siki was just a poor "nut," constantly doing something ridiculous, but nevertheless breaking into print as often as Carpentier.

It seems the curious public is often more interested in the mannerisms and habits of a fighter than in his real ability in that direction.

GOLF STYLES
Perhaps in no sport is dress quite so essential as golf.

The football player when he dons his uniform has the thought of protection uppermost in making the selection of his outfit.

The ball player gives some consideration to protection, but the big idea in the baseball uniform is a light flannel that will absorb perspiration and at the same time look passably well.

The boxer and swimmer wear the lightest possible uniform so as not to handicap their efforts.

It is the same with practically every sport except golf with reference to the uniform. The golf player dresses largely for the matter of looks.

The latest plus fours, some of the knickers look like "Big Sixes" with hose and sweater of many colors to match, topped off by a snappy cap, gets a big play with most golfers.

Poly Gridmen Get Letters

Santa Ana Is Author Of Sport Tips Booklet Banker To 'Ump' Lacrosse

Seventeen varsity football players will receive the coveted block "S. A." for their work on the Santa Ana high school eleven last fall. Acting on the recommendation of Coach "Chuck" Winterburn, the board of control, the student governing organization, recently voted that many monograms should be awarded this year. At the same time 16 Class B (130-pound) players and 15 Class C (110-pound) athletes were honored with letters.

Ray Dawson, star fullback, who is convalescing from a recent attack of appendicitis, and George Decker, veteran tackle, will receive "Ariel" sweaters. This award is given players who serve three years on a Poly varsity squad.

TIGER ACE OUT OF GAME WITH POLY TONIGHT

Chances for the Santa Ana high school basketball victory in tonight's Coast Preparatory league tussle at South Pasadena were considerably improved today when it was learned that Lawrence Mullins, brilliant forward, would be out of the enemy's lineup with a badly battered ankle.

If Santa Ana wins this round, it will be the first league fray it has taken this season. The local varsity has met two of the strongest schools in the conference when they were matched against the undefeated Long Beach aggregation and the Whittier five on consecutive Fridays.

Coach "Chuck" Winterburn will take his varsity squad to South Pasadena.

Sensational Yale pole-vaulter, who established a new indoor world record by clearing 13 feet, one inch, at New Haven the other day. The former mark was held by Sherrill of Penn., who vaulted 13 feet. JOHNNY DUNDEE IN 343RD RING BOUT TONIGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—With eyes ready for tears and voices tuned for a requiem, mourners will gather tonight in Rickard's garden for what is feared will be the last gallant stand of old Johnny Dundee.

For the 343rd battle of his career, Dundee will drag his aching and scarred shell into the ring against Joe Glick, who couldn't come down the steps of an eastside tenement house without help when Dundee fought his first fight 18 years ago for two dollars.

Glick represents youth, extreme youth in that conflict of romance against tottering age and the boys are betting 8 to 5 that age, as personified in Dundee, cannot pull one of its infrequent reverses of nature's form.

Dundee has a daughter almost old enough to go to the movies with young Joe Glick and the real glory of his career dates back to the days of Johnny Kilbane, Freddie Welch, Willie Ritchie, Charley White, Abe Attell, Joe Rivers, and then into more modern era of Benny Leonard, Willie Jackson and Lew Tendler.

It is said of Dundee, who was born Giuseppe Carrozza, that he never refused to fight anyone and never quibbled about terms. He dragged himself out of the grave several years ago, whittled himself down from 147 to 125 pounds and won the featherweight championship of the world with the greatest fight of his career against Gene Ciqui, the French war hero of Verdun.

Making such weight proved a penalty that hastened his decline and since that night the mourners' bench has always had the taper ready for the dirge that some time will have to signal the end of one of the most unique of all ring records.

In picking young Glick, old Johnny certainly was not looking for a bargain. The east side youngster, by a sensational rise from the $10 fights in the armories, has become in less than a year one of the most promising fighters in the country.

BILL INGRAM WILL COACH NAVY ELEVEN

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 29.—Bill Ingram, former coach at the University of Indiana, has signed to coach the Navy next fall, it was announced today. With the signing of Ingram the football staff is complete. It had already been announced that Lt. Com. Douglas would succeed Lt. Com. Frank Slingsuff as the football representative and Com. Jonas H. Ingram would succeed Com. Byron McCandless as athletic director in June.

Bill Ingram resigned as football coach at the University of Indiana last week and it was understood that he would coach the Navy this season, but the naval academy authorities did not make any announcement until today.

McGraw Takes Big Chance On Costly Philly Moundsman

JIMMY RING

It cost John McGraw of the New York Giants $125,000 to get Jimmy Ring, veteran pitcher of the Phillies. While no real money was passed, McGraw gave up Jack Bentley, who cost him $75,000, and Wayland Dean came mighty high at $50,000.

McGraw is confident Ring has at least two years of good pitching left, and if such is the case, figures he will be more than repaid for the gamble he has taken.

POLY LIGHTIES SWAMP TIGERS IN LEAGUE GO

Santa Ana's class B (130-pound) basketball five bagged their first Coast Preparatory league game yesterday afternoon at the American Legion clubrooms here by decisively flogging the South Pasadena Lightweights, 17 to 5.

The visitors scored only one basket during the game, making the remainder of their points on foul shots. Until near the close of the first half the Santa Ana team had their opponents whitewashed.

Otis Goodman started the rampage for the locals by scoring the first basket and coming back as a strong factor in the Santa Ana offense. He was high point player with eight digits credited to him.

This season the Poly "Bees" have met hard luck. When they opened the league conference schedule with Long Beach they were defeated only by a small score during an

IN THIRD GAME BASEBALL FOES AT COSTA MESA

Irvine and Brea Tankle in New League; Westminster Entertain Painters

Terminating a long winter season of baseball rivalries between these two fast clubs, the Van Dien-Youngs team of Santa Ana, Orange County Harbor league champions, and Laguna Beach will clash at Costa Mesa, park Sunday in the third and deciding encounter of a special "two-out-of-three" series.

The building material crew captured the first tilt of the series, 5 to 1. The Cavemen came back on their home plot last Sabbath and scored a 7 to 3 victory. Sunday's affair apparently is a toss-up.

With the probability that the contest will bring together for the last time here those two sterling pitchers, Dennis ("Jack") White and Willie Rangel, local fandom is expected to turn out en masse.

White and Rangel, regarded as two of the best pitching prospects developed in this vicinity in many years, both having been signed by professional clubs. White is scheduled to leave early next month for Tarpon Springs, Fla., to join the St. Louis Browns and Rangel is due to report at Tulsa March 14 along with Abe Johnson, another Laguna Beach product who also will be seen in action Sunday. All these men were put under contract through the interest of Jimmy Austin, venerable St. Louis coach, and Victor Weyer, president of the Harbor league.

The probable lineups follow:
Van Dien-Youngs Laguna Beach
White Rangel
Babeoek R. Gripp
Shirley Jamison
Scott La Plante
Mathews Johnson
Wilfong Comozzi
Nelson E. Gripp
McGinnis Valant

WINTER LEAGUE TEAMS IN ACTION AGAIN SUNDAY

One of the fastest games of the winter baseball campaign is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at Brea when the Irvine Beepickers clash with the Brea Oilers in an Orange County Major Winter league contest. These two clubs began their schedules with victories last week.

Brea has such big time professionals as Bill Pertica, the former St. Louis Cardinal, "Red" Billman, formerly of Vernon, and Carlisle, the old time Coast leaguer and they may give Irvine, erstwhile Orange county semi-pro champions, the roughest kind of an afternoon.

The Shields Paint company of Santa Ana and the Westminster Beet-toppers play their other Major Winter league tilt at Midway City.

HOLLYWOOD MAY GET COAST LEAGUE CLUB

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 23.—Hollywood forged ahead today in the city fight to obtain the Salt Lake Bees when they move to Southern California.

Shortly after Bill Lane, Bees' owner, signed with William Wrigley to share Wrigley park in future seasons of the Pacific Coast league, the cities of Hollywood, Long Beach and Glendale petitioned that the old Salt Lake Bees be named after their cities.

Long Beach had an edge at the start of the battle because the Bees had been training in the Beach in past seasons.

Today, however, a proposition has been sent to Bill Lane in Salt Lake City by Harry Barrett, secretary of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, offering the Gilmors old park with separate clubhouses, shower baths and a good diamond. He also said that arrangements had been made with a Hollywood hotel to house the players cheaply and work would be secured them in the city during the winter months.

U. S. GIRL MAY BEAT LENGLEN SAYS JOHNSTON

By HAROLD E. SWISHER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—California tennis players and fans, including some of the best racquet wielders in the game today hold that Helen Wills, American and Olympic champion, has at least an even chance of defeating Mile. Suzanne Lenglen, French flash, if they meet along the Riviera this spring.

William Johnston, second ranking American male player, Cranston Holman, Stanford sophomore and junior national champion, and Helen Jacobs, girls junior title holder, all declared to the United Press today that "little poker face" Helen will at least give Mile. Lenglen the hardest battle of her career.

While not predicting victory for Miss Wills, all believe that "she has a real chance to win and we're pulling for her."

Johnston, who recognizes "Bill" Tilden as his only superior across the net, joined W. C. ("Pop") Fuller, who trained Miss Wills, in the opinion that it would be fatal for Helen to change her present style of play, which, in some strokes, critics have declared is "awkward."

"I have played with Miss

FRANCES WILLARD JUNIOR HIGH SENIORS, INTERMEDIATES, MIDGETS ALL DEFEATED

Frances E. Willard junior high school's seniors, intermediate and juniors had a disappointing afternoon yesterday when they were unable to score even one victory over the league-leading Fullerton grammar school basketball teams.

The Willard seniors, previously undefeated, met their first upset when they were unable to garner enough digits to upset Fullerton. The score was 21 to 15.

The intermediate tilt was the fastest and closest fray that either team had played this season. After engaging in an extra two-minute period because of a tied score, the Fullerton squad finally came out ahead, 15 to 14.

A majority of the points were made on free foul throws.

17 SANTA ANA PLAYERS VOTED GRID LETTERS

Evelyn Yount, captain; Marie Tomlinson, Virginia Brannon, Hazel Hilgers, Gayle Baldwin, Janet Wilson, Mary Goodykouts and Ruby Walker.

"All Around Sport Tips" is the name of a new booklet just off the press and being distributed at a nominal sum among Santa Ana high school students.

The pamphlet, containing some 25 pages of valuable athletic training rules and advice, was written by Walter L. Scott, a physical education instructor at the local school. Scott will coach the Poly track squad this spring.

Scott, a World War veteran, obtained degrees at Greenville college and at the University of Michigan. He also attended the University of Wisconsin.

Four varsity monograms and one freshman letter were won by Orange county athletes at the University of Southern California during the football season just closed. The numerals were awarded last Saturday night at the close of the annual U. S. C. football banquet.

Newell ("Red") Cravath of Santa Ana, captain-elect of the Trojan herd, received his second U. S. C. letter. He responded to one of the trophies of the evening. Cravath played center last year and was the outstanding center on the Pacific coast. Many competent experts declared he was the best pivot man in the United States.

Newton Stark, also of this city, received his gold football, life pass and his third monogram, these awards being given Trojan athletes who serve three seasons on varsity eleven. Stark was a first string end but was transferred to the backfield for the last two contests of the year.

"Honey" Earle of Fullerton and Bill Cook of Anaheim received letters and Jack Wells of Anaheim was granted a freshman numeral.

Harry Gaspar, one of the proprietors of the Broadway Bowling academy, believes he has discovered a mathematical genius in Bob Elliott, one of his pin-setters. Elliott can add, divide and multiply without the assistance of pencil and paper so rapidly that he can tell the score of all games bowled on his alley as soon as the last ball has been thrown. During a recent session on his drives he came from the pits and told Gaspar the exact total pins recorded and Gaspar's average for 14 games. Other mathematical feats also are told of Elliott.

Alex Brownridge, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants Savings bank, used to be one of the most noted of Canadian lacrosse players. He was chosen on the All-Star Canadian team, similar to an All-American football eleven, several seasons. Now the Santa Ana has been honored by being asked to umpire the women's game of lacrosse that will feature the annual Canadian Midwinter picnic and tourist reunion at Exposition park and Coliseum February 6. More than 65,000 persons are expected to see these 45 female athletes contend for the national lacrosse championship. The affair will be free. Glenn Warner, the veteran Stanford coach, has been asked to referee the woman's game.

U. S. GIRL MAY BEAT LENGLEN

Wills and have seen Mlle. Lenglen in action," Johnston said. "I'll admit the French girl is the more perfect, finished player. But I know our champion's game is effective and she should stick to it."

"It is not unreasonable to hope that Miss Wills will defeat her only rival for premier honors. There are many factors which go into a championship and Miss Wills has much in her favor."

"Oh, I think Helen is wonderful!" exclaimed Helen Jacobs, Berkeley school girl, who already has gained national renown on the courts. "I've never seen Mlle. Lenglen except in motion pictures and one can't pass judgment on comparative scores. But I do know Helen is strong in all departments of the game and I'm sure she has a fine chance to win."

Holman, collegiate tennis star and a friend of Miss Wills, scouted reports of a possibility that she might become engaged abroad.

"I've not paid much attention to those reports that Miss Wills has been proposed to by titled Britishers and other wealthy men," Holman declared. "I'm sure she won't get engaged over there."

"But I am interested in her tennis. Both she and Mlle. Lenglen are fine players. But I do know Helen's temperament is wonderful for that one match particularly. Mlle. Lenglen is temperamental, we are told, and that doesn't go very well in a hard tennis match."

RAIN FORCES POSTPONEMENT OF GALLIA TOURNAMENT
CANNES, France, Jan. 29.—Another day of unwelcome idleness was forced on Helen Wills, American tennis champion, today when rain broke up play in the Gallia tournament and caused a postponement.

Little concern was expressed by Miss Wills over the complaint made by a Paris paper that she is acting in violation of the amateur rule in writing comment for publication about the tournament in which she is playing here.

She said she felt quite sure that she was acting within her rights and that there was no foundation for charges against her.

URGES DRASTIC LAWS TO MAKE BUILDING SAFE

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 28.—The old saying that every sky scraper costs a human life had foundation in days gone by but, with the application of modern safety devices and accident prevention measures, this is no longer the case.

Much, however, remains to be done to end needless loss of life in construction and engineering work.

This was the substance of an address by W. F. Creighton, Nashville, Tenn., before the national convention of the Associated General Contractors of America. Creighton is head of a committee on building and safety codes.

"Unless construction companies are ready to acquiesce in the enactment of drastic safety laws to govern their operations, they cannot neglect to establish effective accident prevention measures," he declared.

Creighton said the contractors would be far better off if they would devise their own safety measures, instead of complying with terms of laws that might be drawn up by uninformed legislators, who knew nothing about working conditions.

"Even the legal codes formulated by men familiar with the business side of construction do not seem to recognize that accident prevention is primarily a matter of education and is dependent upon the state of mind of a working force," he continued.

"Almost any careless workman can endanger the lives of his fellow workers, irrespective of a contractor's safety instructions; experience has clearly shown that this condition is not curable by legislation."

Safety bulletins and careful safety instructions by foremen, Creighton believes, are much more effective in preventing accidents than a multiplicity of detailed regulations.

HOLLYWOOD

By RUSSELL T. BIRDWELL

HOLLYWOOD Jan. 29.—Sights

and thoughts along the boulevard:

Noah Berry, who used to be an elephant trainer, coming out of the

"Cat's Meow" (a music shop) with his child... wonder what become of J. Warren Kerrigan?... thought he had staged a 'comeback' in the "Covered Vagon" (a music shop) with pulling teeth free to convince curious that the operation is painless under their system... one man, old and withered, steps forward and has all of his teeth extracted... "First bargain ever got in my life," he says and walks away, spitting profusely... wonder if Adolphe Menjou and his wife are really separated?... Mary Philbin going in Woolworth's... a finery window with silk doodangles... do women really wear that stuff?

Mae Busch coming out of the Hillview... she may marry a press agent... well, that'll help cut down expenses in more ways than one ... wonder what they've done with all the old beer steins?... Jacqueline Logan riding with her real estate husband and passing Corrine

Griffith and her gas-heater mate

... that is, he sells gas heaters

... these Hollywood girdles worn outside the dress are grotesque looking... a popular fad... the mad-mania for publicity invents

many weird fashions... film gargoyles, smooth and smiling, exiting and entering Montmartre, a place parade new clothes and tell old jokes... the vine-covered sanitarium where Wallace Reid died... children rolling hoops and singing... Charlie

Chaplin and wife in a new sedan... wonder how Charlie Jr. is?... the comedian's hair is getting gray and his face is getting younger... there goes Letrice

Zeldner of New Orleans into a barber shop... she's known in Hollywood as Letrice Joy... wonder what ever happened to little May

Collins, once engaged to Charlie

Chaplin?... some of the girls climbed to greater fame after their engagements-de-luxe with the film clown but pretty May got cheated

... she was claimed by the god of oblivion, the haunting fear of every creature in this human laboratory named Hollywood.

There is some solace in the day's labor pains of a scrivener. A partially truthful press agent has been located. He writes of the woes and weals of Natalie Kingston, whose shapely extremities, now and then, catapult her into the papers.

In describing Natalie's first screen kiss the press agent says: "Miss

Kingston was 17 when Mack Sennett discovered her. In the middle of her first kiss, the camera stopped and, due to embarrassment,

the girl fainted. When revived, Natalie went to her dressing room and remained in seclusion for the balance of the day."

And continuing his story about kisses, the press agent describes the actress' last kiss before the camera.

"In playing opposite Harry Langdon recently, Natalie was directed to deliver a long, lingering kiss upon

Harry's lips. Just as the camera stopped a few minutes later, Mr.

Langdon fainted and was carried from the set."

The Wallace Reid Memorial hospital, erected as a monument to the memory of the late matinee idol, by his widow, has failed. This was to have been the Resort of Hope for those enmeshed in the deadly drug which killed the young actor in the prime of his world popularity.

Perched high in the Brentwood

Hills near the film town, it was planned as an earthly heaven where unfortunate men and women might breathe of uncontaminated ozone and bask in the cure of sunshine.

"People living no nearer than a mile and a half complained of having a rest home so near them," Mr.

Reid says. "They ran us out... we tried to do good... but it has failed. The home intended for all my plans now houses a country club."

Once the names of Mrs. Milton

Sills, Mrs. Monte Blue, Mrs. James

Cruze (Margaret Snow), Mrs. Bert

Lytell (Evelyn Vaughn), and Mrs.

George Melford graced the columns of the Los Angeles society pages.

These names are still there but other women now bear them—the first set of wives was divorced after fame fell upon their mates.

AUSTRALIA TO ADMIT FORMER WAR ENEMIES

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—An Oceanic line has been advised by the British passport control office in

New York that the wartime and post-war immigration ban against entry into the commonwealth of Australia, raised against

German, Austrian, Hungarian, Bulgarian and Hungarian parentage

and nationality has been lifted.

The ban was lifted by the British passport control office on Dec. 2,

1925, the advice of the Oceanic line, which were received through the local British consulate office, stated.

The communication says in part:

"Restrictions of the immigration act against entry into Australia of persons of German, Austrian, Hungarian and Hungarian parentage

and nationality has been removed from Dec. 2, 1925, and they henceforth will be admitted into the commonwealth of Australia as other Europeans.

"This removal of restrictions,

however, applies only to the commonwealth of Australia, and not to the territory of Papua, Norfolk island or the mandated territory of New Guinea.

"No such thing as style," says Clare West, Hollywood's premier modiste, "at least, there shouldn't be." Miss West ought to know for she has "made" Gloria Swanson, Constance and Norma Talmadge, Bebe Daniels and more—that is, if "clothes make the woman." What Miss West is driving at is that what is stylish for one is terrible for another—short skirts, for instance, are good for those who have pretty legs—only! "Girls should wear the style that best fits their beauty, or covers up their lack of it," she says.

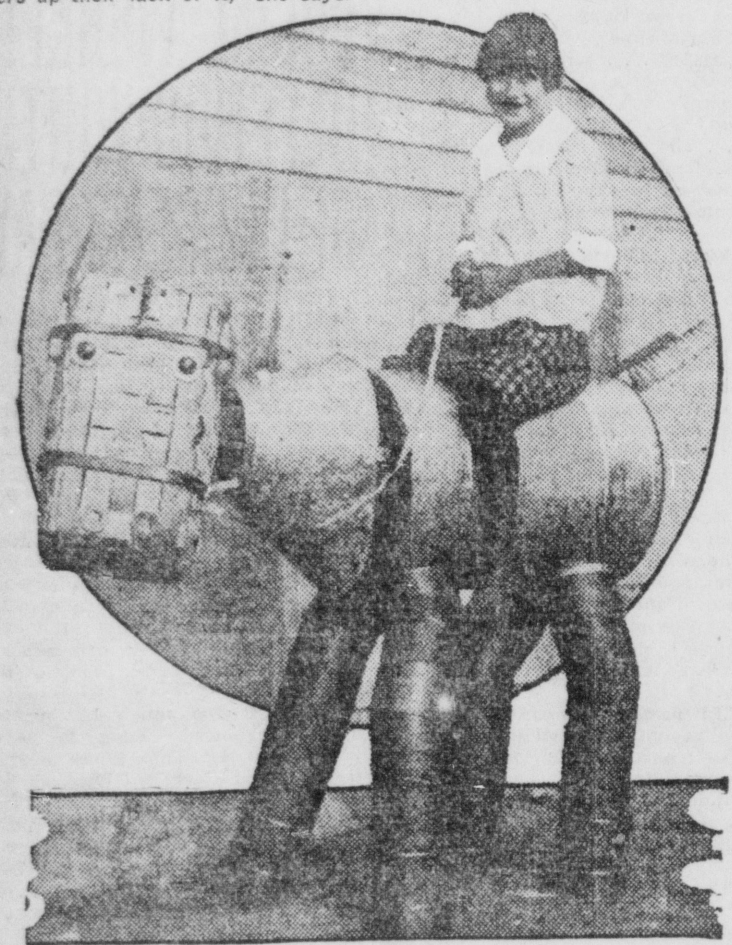

Eight years ago, Alma Gella left San Francisco to attend high school in New York. She was only 10 years old. Now she has returned to her home city as the world's youngest prima donna to appear in opera. Miss Gella has been studying only two years and will continue her studies in Paris next summer.

NEWS from ORANGE COUNTY

VALUES SOAR AS OPERATORS SEEK H. B. LOTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 29.—With approximately 14 oil companies and individuals seeking the new well in the Huntington Beach field on its Lincoln property, according to field reports, the new well is Lincoln No. 2, and is located east of the United's Burnett-Anchor property. It is in proven territory.

Land has been raising in price by leaps and bounds since the announcement that a petition asking that restrictions be raised in the district. The petition probably will be submitted to the city trustees in the near future. Two groups of oil men are said to be working in the city. One is asking for the raising of restrictions in the entire city and the other is asking that restrictions be lifted from Seventeenth street westward to Twenty-third street.

A rush for drilling sites, unequalled since the oil boom six years ago, has been experienced during the past few days. Among those who have secured drilling sites are the Wilshire Oil company, George P. Getty, E. J. Miley, Petroleum Midway Oil company, Julian Petroleum corporation, J. E. O'Donnell, Standard Oil company, Associated Oil company, King G. Gillette, White-Behr Petroleum syndicate, Fred Gordon, Harry McMillan, United Richfield Drilling company and Col. O'Connor, who is said to represent one of the largest oil companies on the Pacific coast.

Prices of lots have been rising rapidly. One man, a local policeman, William Stanton, owner of two lots in the restricted area, was holding the lots for a price of $1500. The price went up so rapidly that it passed the $1500 mark and he received $1800.

Another transaction was being related yesterday by real estate dealers. A prominent business man offered his home and two lots in the restricted area for a certain price. Two hours later, he accepted an offer of $500 more than he was asking. It is estimated that during the past two weeks, more than 250 lots have been sold in the restricted area between Seventeenth and Twenty-third streets.

Got the Real Thing

"For five long years I suffered with stomach trouble and the doctors called gall stone colic, and all said nothing but an operation would do me any good. A friend who had taken your medicine advised me to try it, and I found it to be the real thing. I feel better than I have in eight years. I am praising God for May's. One dose will convince." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

LINKS FREEMAN WITH GANG OF CHECK ARTISTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 29.—That Harry Freeman, 27, arrested Tuesday by Chief of Police Jack Tinsley, is a member of an organized gang of check operators was the opinion voiced today by Tinsley.

Information reaching Tinsley yesterday from Long Beach, where Freeman is said to have lived, has caused local officials to communicate with Long Beach officials and with the Burns detective agency in an effort to round up the check operators.

According to Tinsley, Freeman operated in Long Beach under two names, sometimes posing as Harry Friedman and other times as Harry Freeman, and maintained two places of residence.

Strength was added to the belief of the officer that Freeman is a member of an organization which does nothing but steal and forge corporation checks, when Freeman's landlady at Long Beach appeared at police headquarters and declared that she had been mysteriously informed of Freeman's arrest a short time after he had fallen into officers' hands in Huntington Beach. The woman declared that a note had been slipped under her door, telling her that Freeman had been arrested in Huntington Beach.

It is believed that Freeman is one of the persons who recently stole a number of checks from the Scott theater in Long Beach.

Freeman is being held in the Orange county jail in default of $1000 bail pending his appearance in the superior court to answer to a charge of passing fictitious checks. He is said to have confessed to Tinsley that he had stolen a number of checks from the office of Steele Finley, Santa Ana contractor.

Three of these checks, each amounting to $25, were cashed at a local bank and were used to purchase a Ford truck and a car. Freeman is said to have been placed to the police department to the effect that the man was threatening members of a Mexican settlement with a gun.

Information gleaned by Chief Tinsley is to the effect that Martinez figured in a sensational escape over the walls of Folsom prison more than 10 years ago.

Tinsley declared today that he had been told by friends of the jailed man that Martinez has been living in the vicinity of Huntington Beach for nearly 10 years and that his real name is Ruiz and not Martinez.

If it is found that the Mexican did escape from Folsom, it is probable that he will be returned to the prison. If the story of his friends proves to be without foundation, then Martinez or Ruiz will face a charge under the alien firearm act, according to Tinsley.

BEACH ITALIAN SEEKS SECOND NATURALIZATION PAPERS AFTER 20 YEARS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 29.—The story of a belated application for Americanization papers was told here today by Giuseppe Polladino, Italian. More than 21 years ago, he came to America from Naples. A year later, he took out his first naturalization papers in the state of Michigan.

Polladino was a young man then and in far away Italy, he had left his wife and two sons. He intended to send for them soon. The days went by and grew into years. One thing and then another prevented him from sending for his family. He did not know whether to return to his native land or to wait. He waited. He also waited to take out his second papers.

Fifteen years went by and the family joined Polladino in America. They moved about from one town to another. Polladino's wife was undecided whether she would remain in America. He did not wish to be separated from his wife, and again the application for second papers was delayed.

Five more years have passed. Polladino and his family are satisfied with Southern California. They have a nice home. Polladino has a good job, one of his sons is in school and the other is in business in Huntington Beach.

Today, Polladino is preparing to take his examination for the second papers, and he is wondering if the first naturalization papers which he secured more than 20 years ago in Michigan will be good or whether he will have to start the process over again. He will be numbered among the next class in Santa Ana.

THINK PRISONER FOLSOM CONVICT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 29.—Authorities of this city and members of the sheriff's office were today trying to establish definitely the identity of a Mexican who gives the name of T. Martinez, who is being held in the county jail on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

The man was arrested near Huntington Beach Tuesday night by Chief of Police Jack Tinsley after a call had been placed to the police department to the effect that the man was threatening members of a Mexican settlement with a gun.

Information gleaned by Chief Tinsley is to the effect that Martinez figured in a sensational escape over the walls of Folsom prison more than 10 years ago. Tinsley declared today that he had been told by friends of the jailed man that Martinez has been living in the vicinity of Huntington Beach for nearly 10 years and that his real name is Ruiz and not Martinez.

If it is found that the Mexican did escape from Folsom, it is probable that he will be returned to the prison. If the story of his friends proves to be without foundation, then Martinez or Ruiz will face a charge under the alien firearm act, according to Tinsley.

PREPARE PLANS FOR OPENING OF BEACH HIGHWAY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 29.—Preliminary plans for a celebration to mark the opening of the state highway between Newport Beach and Laguna Beach were laid at the meeting of the chamber of commerce this week. The road is to be opened to travel during the first week of June. J. A. Armitage, secretary of the chamber, will cooperate with the chambers of Newport Beach, Balboa and Laguna Beach in arranging for a celebration to mark the event.

Lower Rates ON P. E. ASKED BY OIL FIRM

BREA, Jan. 29.—As the result of a complaint made by the Wilshire Oil company to the state railroad commission some time ago, lower rates for the shipping of crude and fuel oil are expected to be put into effect between Los Angeles and Oleo, a Pacific Electric shipping point for the Brea-Olinda district. The present rate between Los Angeles, El Segundo, Wilmington and Watson is three cents per hundredweight, while the rate charged between Los Angeles and Oleo is four cents per hundredweight. The commission has ordered the rates equalized, so that the railroad must either raise the El Segundo, Wilmington and Watson rate or lower the rate to Oleo. There is little doubt but that the latter course will be adopted.

OPENING OF THE BAZAAR
TOMORROW

Everything is ready for the opening tomorrow of the greatest charity bazaar that ever has been held in Pittsburgh. Not even during the war, when Pittsburgh, along with the other big cities of America, emptied her pockets for the war effort over there, was there a benefit given on such a scale as the one commencing tomorrow night.

The entertainment committee feels that it is a most kindly coincidence that fate has brought Miss Perier here to shoot some of the scenes of "Hot Steel" at the same time this bazaar is being given.

She has consented, at the request of Mrs. Sally Atherton, one of her great friends, to speak from the stage of the auditorium every afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Joseph Graves Hamilton and Mrs. John Alden Prescott have had charge of the flower booth and they each have given five thousand dollars toward stocking it. The most beautiful young ladies in the city have consented to be saleswomen where every possible flower will be on sale from the humble daisy to the royal orchid.

Miss Perier will start her picture on next Monday morning immediately after the close of the bazaar. This is causing almost as much interest in the city as the great charity sale. But, although all are admitted to the bazaar who have the price of admission, very few will be allowed in the steel mills during the making of Miss Perier's picture.

Telephone Conversation Between Sally Atherton and Paula Perier

"Is that you, Sally?"

"Yes, this is Sally, Paula. When did you get in?"

"This morning. Did Mrs. Prescott tell you when she would come to luncheon with us?"

"Yes. If it suits you, Paula, Leslie will lunch with us at the bazaar on the opening day. You see, she is so anxious for Karl Whitney's sake to make the bazaar a success that she is going to go over every day and make her appearance both at the flower and jewelry booths."

"The publicity man seems to think that if you and she are seen taking lunch together, nothing more will be desired."

"I'm rather sorry, Sally. We're not going to be more secluded."

"Well, Leslie says that after you get through shooting your picture, she wants you to come to her and we'll all have a luncheon with the children. She knew you'd like that. Goodbye."

"Oh, wait a minute, wait a minute, Sally. I haven't got through talking to you yet."

Menus for the Family

By SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Grape fruit, codfish hash on toast, marmalade rolls, crisp graham toast, milk, coffee. Luncheon—Baked rice and tomatoes, brown bread, caramel custard, milk, tea.

Dinner—Old-fashioned vegetable soup, toast sticks, cold sliced roast beef, potato salad, steamed fig pudding, whole wheat rolls, milk, coffee.

This recipe for baked rice and tomatoes is a little out of the ordinary in that it combines several vegetables with cheese, making a really delicious and savory dish for cold weather.

Baked Rice and Tomatoes
One-half cup uncooked rice, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 1 cup grated cheese, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup diced celery, 1 small onion, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 teaspoons sugar.

Boil rice until about half done. Put a layer of rice into a well-buttered baking dish, add a layer of grated cheese, tomatoes, celery and thinly sliced or minced onion. Dot with bits of butter and sprinkle with salt and sugar. Add another layer of rice, cheese, vegetables and seasonings. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderately hot oven for 40 minutes. Increase heat when the rice is tender to brown the crumbs.

CYNTHIA GREY

SAYS: There Is Silver Lining to Radio Cloud

By CYNTHIA GREY

If you find yourself a radio widow, bridge, ere yet the honey-moon has ended, despair not too tragically, nor weep too bitterly! Every cloud has its silver lining! God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform.

The devil can quote scripture to suit his purpose.

Likewise, the radio may serve your ends as well as his. To wit, the picture!

It may mean that with his flapping aural appendages glued to the headphones, you can say as loudly as you darn please, "Oh, by the way, love, I bought the dearest hat to-day at Madame X's. And so reasonable! Only forty dollars! I started a charge account. You won't get the bill for almost a whole month."

And there'll be nary a come-back because he never heard you!

You can take time by the forelock upon this auspicious occasion and say, too, "Really, dear, aren't you spending too much for tobacco. Just try putting the old pipe away for a time, sweet."

And there'll be nary a come-back. There's this Balm in Gilead, too. With his manly chest heaving with emotion from the tragic radio bedtime story about little Johnny Skunk who got caught in the briar patch and had to have his leg amputated, he'll forget to tell you that the grocery bill was too high last month, and ask you what in the world you're paying for cheese, anyway!

They talk styles over the radio, remember, bridey, dear.

Can you imagine any young husband hearing to a ravishing description of what the well-dressed woman will wear this year, refusing to buy his wife this little nothing or that little something when The Radio Voice has told him that it simply MUST be done?

Radios keep 'em home nights, too! Of course perhaps that's not the Balm in Gilead it's meant to be! I know wives who serve as chairwomen of the Committee on Ways and Means to keep Husbands Out of the Home Nights, Especially Nights When I Want to Have the Club.

But then, being still in the bride stage, you, perhaps, can stand him around better than wives of longer standing.

And—here's another glorious tip! He buys the radio. It probably costs a hundred or so. Whenever he reproaches you for buying hand-painted soap or Books of Knowledge or handpainted postcards of Plymouth Rock from the nice young man working his way through college who came to the door, you can always say—sweetly—

"Yes, John, dear, remember the radio!"

An' that's that, as the quaint old saying goes!

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

NO. 17—MISTER HAVALOOK'S INITIALS

"I just wanted to say," said the Tin Soldier, saluting

"I just wanted to say," said the Tin soldier, saluting, "that there isn't going to be a revolution in Hidy Go Land, sir."

"What!" cried poor Mister Havalook in amazement. "You don't say so! No revolution! How come?"

Everybody is happy, sir. That's why," said the Tin Soldier. "The Grinoline Doll has found her skirt, the Gingerbread Man has found his eye and his coat-tail, and Limber Long Legs has found a back-bone."

"A back-bone!" exclaimed the Twins who were helping poor Mister Havalook to count his laundry so as to be sure he had it all. "What did he get for a back-bone?"

"A drumstick," said the Tin Soldier. "Someone lost a drumstick down a crack in the floor, and it came to Hidy Go Land."

"It didn't take Limber Long Legs two seconds to grab it," he went on. "Miss Pithers, the yarn lady, used some of her yarn to tie it on and now Limber Long Legs is a new man."

"Good!" cried poor Mister Havalook. "We shall now proceed to be happy. I am going to change my name to Happy Mister Havalook and turn the corners of my mouth up."

"Then I'll have to change all your initials on your napkins and towels and handkerchiefs," said Nancy. "P. M. H. won't do any more. It's 'H. M. H.' now."

"Dear! Dear! That's a lot of trouble!" said poor Mister Havalook. "Couldn't we make it something that means 'happy' but begins with a 'p'?"

Nobody seemed to be able to decide, so the Tin Soldier went to the door and blew his tin whistle.

All the dolls in Hidy Go Land hurried to see what was wanted. "Put on your thinking caps," said Nancy. "We want you to answer a question."

"Is it school?" asked Belinda. "If it is, I shan't stay. I came to Hidy addition of collar and lapels to the pajama jacket, giving it the trim and symmetrical lines of a coat. This took away the clownish, loutish appearance of old-fashioned pajamas and transformed them into garments of genuine style and good looks.

The sketch illustrates a pair of pajamas of the sort much in vogue this season. Observe the notched, peaked, low-lying collar modeled somewhat after a polo shirt. Notice, too, the convenient breast and side pockets and the sash belt which may be knotted in front, as shown, or upon the left side, if you have reached the age when your hair line has receded and your waistline has advanced. The collar, front, edges, pocket tops and belt are of a different color from the body, affording a pleasing contrast.

The brightest of effects are now employed for pajamas, including pastel tints, stripes, checks, Jacquard figures, all-over designs, floral traceries and many more. Silks, silk-and-linens, broadcloths, batistes and the like are the materials for the better grades of garments. Then, there are so-called buttonless pajamas meant for bachelors and travelers who are away from the thoughtful ministrations of woman, needle and thread. Anyway, pajamas have emerged from the darkness as articles of great good looks.

DESIGN FROM THE ORIENT

A length of satin, velvet or heavy crepe, makes a most attractive and practical scarf for table or console, especially when it is embroidered with red, blue and gold in a pattern like the one given here. A finish of two inches fancy braid in color, and a tassel or two complete a scarf that is unusual, not expensive, and within the ability of even an inexperienced needlewoman.

"I'm not plucky!" declared poor Mister Havalook. "I'm a hard working fairytaleman if ever there was one."

"Plucky!" said Mrs. Jiggs. "Profound!" said Limber Long Legs.

"Proper!" said Miss Pithers. "Peaceful!" said the Rag Doll. But none of them were much good. Poor Mister Havalook said it wasn't worth while changing his name for any of them and I think he was right. He'd just as soon be called 'poor' as 'peaceful' he said.

"I know a word," said Nancy. "Why don't you call yourself 'Plucky Mister Havalook.' It means happy and brave, too."

Old Folks Need a Mild Laxative — Not a "Physic"

Most men and women past fifty must give to the bowels some occasional help else they suffer from constipation. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect a gentle aid to weak bowels.

Is your present laxative, in whatever form, promoting natural bowel "regularity"—or must you urge and "physic" every day or two to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, colds, or sour, gassy stomach?

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural, regular bowel movement even for those chronically constipated. It never gripes, sickens or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine and just see for yourself.

Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

"Christian Science and the World's Redemption"

By Professor Hermann S. Hering, C. S. B.

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church,
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The nature of human existence and the history of spiritual development may be traced both in the Bible narratives and in subsequent events.

The Scriptures narrate, how, at every crisis in humanity's history, a saving thought found a hearing in some advanced mentality, which appealed to the people of its time and led them out of ignorance and darkness into a better state, thus brightening and thinning the clouds of material sense which obstructed their view of God as divine Spirit.

Thus, Noah at one crisis saved a remnant of the people from utter destruction. Abraham later, through his sense of fidelity and obedience, turned from idolatry to the worship of one God and became the father of a nation through whom spiritual development could advance on the basis of monotheism.

Then followed Jacob, who wrestled with material sense and overcame it, and who was given the new name of Israel; Joseph who was able to bless his enemies; Moses, who separated good from evil and gave his people the moral law; later, prophets who could see and announce successive steps out of the material darkness of their day, and so lessen the darkness of the clouds of sense; until finally a mentality appeared, of such exceptional purity and spirituality, that actual spiritual communion with God was possible, a consummation which resulted in what is termed the immaculate conception of Jesus.

He was a complete rift in the clouds, for God was seen clearly, and thereby the first coming of the Christ was rendered possible.

JESUS AND CHRISTIANITY Christ Jesus came, then, because the spiritual unfoldment of the human consciousness made it possible, because the rift in the mental clouds clearly revealed the divine light. It was thus that he was "sent" by God, just as the sunlight comes directly from the sun into the room when the shades are lifted. It is evident that the infinite God has always been ever-present, but it required much clarification of consciousness to bring this fact to human apprehension.

Jesus undoubtedly foresaw the antagonism which would attack his teachings and endeavor to destroy them; yet he gave proofs of the correctness of his doctrine and thus made possible the establishment of his religion by his followers.

Although the clouds of material sense had rolled back sufficiently to let the divine sunlight of Jesus' coming appear, the world's hatred of Christianity again shut out this light, and spiritual enlightenment was once more engulfed in dogma and formalism.

SEED OF TRUTH IMMORTAL
The seed of spiritual Truth, however, which was sown by Jesus, his disciples, and his followers during those early years, contained immortal life, and like yeast, it again began to leaven the human consciousness. Thus, after many centuries this Truth again appeared, in flashes as it were, through mental-ities that were spiritual enough to feel its power, in spite of the matterialistic doctrines which were leading to the suppression of its spirit. Aided by these spiritual thinkers the thought of the world was being prepared for a successful reformation.

Wycliffe, Luther, Calvin, John Knox, and other reformers, were clear and courageous correctors of wrong teaching and champions of freedom of thought, bringing God's Word, the Bible, to all the people.
These reformers were like rays of light breaking through the clouds and shining in the darkness. Later reformers and protestants were those who in 1839 were driven into the north of Ireland. Persecution continued and after the siege of Londonderry, they came to the United States, as pioneers, to establish both their religion and their political homes.

From a later generation of these God-fearing, courageous pioneers, a child was born in Bow, New Hampshire, in 1821, who had a most unusual mentality. The mother of this child was a woman of the deepest spirituality who believed in the truth of the Scriptures and in the power of God to a remarkable degree and who counted among her friends many far in advance of the times in religious and philosophical thought.

FINAL REVELATION
This little child was Mary Baker, wonderfully gifted and very receptive of spiritual ideas. Her mother talked with her a great deal of spiritual things, and she had many unusual spiritual experiences. She was a constant reader and deep thinker. When at the age of twelve years, she was about to join her parents' church, she refused to agree to certain doctrinal points, for she had already gained an understanding of the Bible that was in advance of some of the theological teaching of her time. As she grew older she developed a mentality of such a clarified, spiritual quality, that the divine light of Truth broke through her consciousness as a discovery because she was ready, willing, and able to hear the Truth, be receptive of the spiritual idea, and obey its demands.

We see, then, that the appearing of divine Truth on earth, from the time of Adam until now, has come through improved mentalities, which could perceive this Truth, and by whose progressive recognition of a higher sense of spiritual reality the obscurant darkness was lessened.

natural manifestation of Truth to human consciousness and is not a supernatural event.

Many devout, spiritually minded persons have received divine light, caught glimpses of spiritual truth, during the period of this transforming of consciousness. But Mrs.
Eddy was the only one who received the full light, remained at the task of working out the reasons for this light and reduced her discoveries to the basis of a divine Science. She demonstrated her discovery by performing many wonderful cures, and she taught her students this method of spiritual healing so that they also did marvelous healing work.

One man, Christ Jesus, and eleven disciples, left such an impress upon the world through their teaching and healing, that it has endured to the present day, and Mrs.
Eddy's discovery of the true Principle of this teaching and healing has saved it for the world in this age, and will extend its Christ-power throughout all time.

TEACHINGS OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The teachings of Christian Science on which the movement is founded, which are the basis of its practice and promises, and which have been the cause of its tremendous growth, are clearly set forth in the textbook of Christian Science, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. Mrs. Eddy has also written other books, all of which emphasize, elucidate, and amplify these teachings in a variety of forms. Any one can learn what Christian Science teaches by reading and studying these books.

Divine Principle is one of the synonymous names employed in the Christian Science textbook for God, and the Bible is full of this thought when it speaks of God as Creator, as "just and right," as governor, judge, law, thus defining Him as basis, foundation, cause, etc., which Principle is.

It is not a difficult step from Principle to I AM, the name God is recorded to have given Himself in answer to Moses inquiry. The frequent records of the voice of God to patriarchs, prophets, and others indicate God to be Mind, the infinite intelligence, or omniscience.

Spirit is the name for Deity which is used perhaps more than all others in the Bible and which makes plain His omnipresence and allness, and that the divine creation is wholly spiritual, for only immaterial substance is indestructible and eternal.

All Christendom is familiar with the God of Truth who is Life, of whom the Bible teaches, and which teaching Christian Science reaffirms and demonstrates, proving the omnipotent actuality which God really is.

Finally, we find the greatest definition of God in the repeated declaration made by St. John, that "God is love" (John 4:16), saving, preserving, guiding Father-Mother, all-knowing, all-wise, all-harmonious, thus completing the perfect correlation with the Bible of Mrs.
Eddy's scientific definition of God's nature and character.

So also do the teachings of the Bible and of Christian Science coincide regarding man who was made in the "image and likeness" of God, and the universe which God pronounced "very good."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE HEALING
It should next be seen that Christian Science is the Science of Christianity, namely, the exact systematic, demonstrable knowledge of the Christ teachings and their application to human redemption.

When we understand the mission of Christ Jesus we see that his teachings were intended, by saving mortals from the misery, wretchedness, and ungodliness of material living, to bring to them salvation, redemption from the world's evils.

Since the healing of sin, disease, and all other earthly misery is an essential part of the world's redemption, and since Christian Science brings about this healing, let us consider this question for a moment, for it involves a subject that is greatly misunderstood.

Christian Science healing may be demonstrated and will be differentiated from all other forms of mental healing when the following points are understood: first, it has a divine foundation and results from the operation of divine Mind and not human will; second, it is based upon absolute reality, the infinity of Mind, Spirit, Truth, and the perfect nature of the ideas which constitute real being; third, it is predicated upon the unreality of all that is unlike perfect spiritual Being, namely, the unreality of matter, evil mind, mortal law and power, which constitute so-called material existence, or the "Adam-dream"; fourth, it is fundamentally a corrective process, as Jesus indicated when he said, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

ITS PROMISE
In the twentieth, twenty-first, and twenty-second chapters of the book of Revelations we read of the reign of a thousand years of peace with Christ, commonly called the Millennium.

This period of perfect happiness, of righteous government and the brotherhood of man, during which holiness is triumphant in human relationship throughout the world, has usually been thought of as a heavenly place to be reached after death, instead of as a heavenly state to be experienced in consciousness to-day. Mrs. Eddy explains the fallacy of this commonly accepted belief very clearly in her analysis of the twenty-second chapter of Revelation.

Those who have begun to understand the works of our Master, Christ Jesus, during his ministry on earth, can readily see that if his teachings were strictly obeyed there would be no more sickness, sin, misery, nor death upon earth.
It is helpful at all times to think this over and to realize what a changed and wonderful world this earth would be if the faithful practice of Christian Science were universal.

When, therefore, we grasp the fact that Christian Science is the Science of Christianity, and involves Principle, law, substance, and power, which any one can understand and apply, we see why it has been humanly possible for the world's redemption to begin, and the Millennium to be experienced now.

Mrs. Eddy writes: "Christ's Christianity is the chain of scientific being reappearing in all ages, maintaining its obvious correpondence with the Scriptures and God" (Science and Health, p.
271).

SAYS AUTO NOT AS EFFICIENT AS DAIRY COW

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. — The dairy cow, which Henry Ford recently said was so inefficient that she should be abolished as a milk producer, is actually three times more efficient in her ratio of fuel consumption to production than is the automobile, declared Prof. C. H. Eckles, of the University of Minnesota, in an article replying to Ford.

Eckles said that under ordinary road conditions the automobile produced but 12 to 15 per cent of the power of the gasoline used, while the normal cow makes use of 55 to 60 per cent of the energy in her ration.

Continuing his vindication of the cow and his refutation of Ford's criticism, Eckles said that there was no known method of producing synthetic milk and that scientists were of the opinion none was likely. Milk and butter substitutes may be produced, he said, which look and taste like the original but all such substitutes lack the real milk vitamins, which are essential to human health.

"If man is making a mistake in depending upon the dairy cow for 20 per cent of his food he had been making the mistake for a long time," said Eckles.

"Recorded history goes back 6000 years. Milk was even then an important article of food, and both butter and cheese were known and in use. It seems reasonable that milk must have some special value in the diet of mankind."

In discussing the difficulty of producing a cheaper substitute for milk, Eckles pointed out that in every attempt to concoct a calf food without milk "the verdict of the calf is always to the effect that something is wrong."

"Even if it were possible to get protein for human food from some other source than milk it still would be more economical, at least under present conditions, to get it from milk," continued Eckles.

"At $20 a ton for alfalfa, protein from that source would cost 10 cents a pound; with linseed meal at $50 a ton, protein in that form would cost eight cents a pound. This does not include the expense of getting the protein separated and ready for use, provided somebody knew how to do it. Protein in the form of dairy products can be purchased now below either of these figures."

Eckles concluded with a final parting shot at the Ford criticism of the cow.

"If Ford does decide to show us how to dispense with the cow I suggest he wait until he is ready to retire from business. If the usual three and a half million monthly milk and cream checks were cut off suddenly, a slump of some visible proportions would be evident in the market for cars."

Butcher Knife Is Used for Murder

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 28.—Brutally hacked about the face and throat with a butcher knife, Mrs. Frances L. Cole, 65, was found murdered yesterday at her home in National City, near here.

The body was discovered by a neighbor, who had noticed that the woman had not been seen about the house for two days.

Authorities are working on the theory that robbery was the motive.

RECORD BROKEN BY TRAFFIC IN RAIL FREIGHT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The American Railway association has announced that the railroads in 1925 handled "the greatest freight traffic on record," and the bureau of railway economics disclosed that for the first 11 months in the year, class one roads earned, on the basis of their own property valuation figures, an annual return of 4.83 per cent.

The return, which is maintained by the carriers, placed the net operating income for the 11 months at $1,041,689,000 against $899,666,000 during the corresponding 1924 year.

Returns filed by the railroads with its car service division of the Railway association showed that car loadings in 1925 totaled 51,177,962 cars, an increase of 2,643,529 over 1924, and 1,958,849 over 1923, as well as an advance of 653,392 over the division's estimate for the year, made last spring.

"The record traffic of 1925 was handled without transportation difficulties," the association said, "and with practically no car shortage."

While the peak was reached in the week ending August 29 with 1,124,436 cars handled, "the greatest number for any one week on record," the association declared that for 20 separate weeks, beginning about mid-July, loadings exceeded the million mark.

Turning to loadings for the week ending December 26, the association declared that these totaled 701,079, an advance of 53,755 over the corresponding week last year.

It placed coal loadings at 122,350 cars, a decrease of 25,948 under the previous week; grain and grain products 23,267, a decrease of 20,892; miscellaneous freight 251,299, a decrease of 90,379; merchandise and less than carload lots 200,372, a drop of 52,288; and livestock, 22,729, a decrease of 11,667.

ANOTHER DIES AS EXPLOSION RESULT

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 28.—The second death from the premature explosion of a six-inch shell on the destroyer Farragut Wednesday occurred yesterday when Joseph Becker, chief boatswain's mate, succumbed to internal injuries. O. L. Bogar, seaman, was killed instantly.

The board of investigation today opened its second session aboard the destroyer. Until the inquiry is ended, the board will make no facts public. Visitors are not allowed aboard the ship, now at anchor with a gap torn in its forward deck.

The other seven injured members of the crew are reported out of danger.

He was taken to the hospital. Leighton and Tucker were locked up on burglary charges.

LONGER PERIOD OF ENLISTMENT IN NAVY URGED

By C. B. DODDS
Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Congress is being urged by the navy department to lengthen the enlistment period, which is the shortest in the American navy of any of the great navies of the world.

Enlistments in the American navy are for four or six years and a force of 600 enlisted men is constantly required in the recruiting service, while Great Britain needs but 27 men in the recruiting service to maintain a personnel of greater numbers than in the U. S. navy. The British period of enlistment is 12 years.

In Japan, the period of enlistment is 12 years, of which six years are spent in active service and six years in first reserve.

In a statement furnished congress recently by the navy department, it is pointed out that: "The handicap which a short period of enlistment places upon a navy should be recognized in connection with this general comparison of personnel. The short period of enlistment in the navy, with its accompanying heavy yearly turnover in men, necessitates large items in cost and personnel to handle matters of recruiting and training. Seasoned personnel in long enlistments require less steaming and gunnery exercises, less instruction at shore establishments and aboard ship, to maintain the same relative efficiency with a personnel in short periods of enlistments."

The same report shows that both Japan and Great Britain maintain a larger number of admirals of a permanent grade than does the American navy. Great Britain has five officers with the rank of admiral of fleet and 11 officers with the ranks of admiral, while the United States has no officers with these ranks. Japan has 11 admirals. In the rank of vice admiral, Great Britain has 21 officers; Japan, 15; the United States, none. In the rank of rear admiral, Great Britain has 59; the United States, 51; Japan, 52. In the rank of captain, Great Britain has 288; the United States, 216; Japan, 167.

The total officer personnel of the three powers mentioned is Great Britain, 5708; United States, 6869; Japan, 4778.

The entire extra cost of the recent trip of the American fleet to Australia, over and above the normal standing charges that would have accrued had the trip not been made, amounted to only $16,000, according to a report just received by the navy department from Admiral Robinson.

This represents the additional fuel oil consumption for the voyage. The admiral ends his statement with this conclusion: "The benefits derived—naval, national and international—are cheaply bought."

The American navy made an exceptional record on this trip, inasmuch as the fleet was virtually self-sustaining for the entire period of almost three months. When this statement was made before the house appropriations committee, Congressman Oliver, of Alabama, remarked: "That was a worth-while military accomplishment," and Admiral Eberle replied: "Yes, sir; one of great value."

The only supplies bought by the fleet from the time it left Honolulu until it returned was a little coal for the flagship Seattle and fresh fruit in Australia for the crews.

That the amount of business transacted by the public with the department of the interior reaches huge proportions was illustrated by a check showing that an average of 626 pieces of mail is received daily at the department.

Of this total number, the secretary of the interior receives 903 letters every day, his mail being the heaviest of all the bureaus under his supervision with two exceptions. The pension bureau has the largest daily average mail, with 2298 pieces, while the general land office is second with 912 letters per day.

The quarter of an inch lacked by Herman J. Strickland to hold his job in the Oakland post office cannot be overlooked by the civil service commission, according to an official notice given Congressman Carter, of Oakland, by President William C. Deming.

Strickland lost his position in Oakland when the civil service commission checked up on his height and learned that he was only five feet, three and three-fourths inches tall, whereas the minimum required is five feet, four inches. Upon the demand of the commission, Strickland had to leave, despite the fact that his work was highly commended by Postmaster Connors and his immediate superiors.

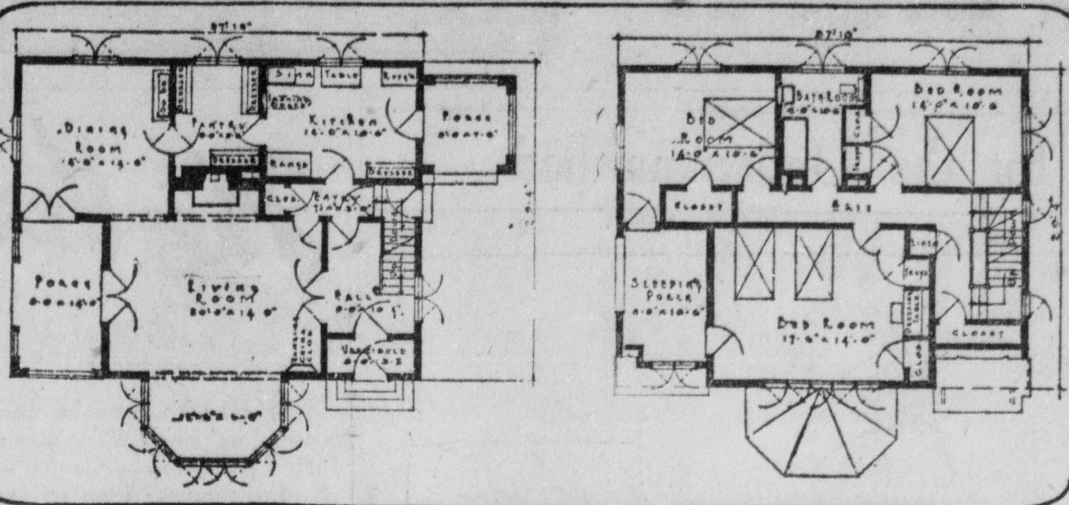

Strickland worked for the post-office department in 1917 and 1918, but he came within the law then because his hair was long and bushy. Now he is bald. He resigned from the service in 1919 and went into other business and was reappointed a few months ago, after having passed the mental examination with a high average.

Strickland has a wife and children depending upon him for support. Congressman Carter endeavored to help him, but was informed by the commission that it would neither authorize his reinstatement with the post office department nor authorize his transfer to another department, where the physical requirements are not so exacting.

WINDOWS ALLOW PLENTY OF SUNLIGHT

(Detailed plans and specifications of this home may be obtained at low cost by writing to the home plan editor, the Curtis companies, Clinton, Ia.)

Many homebuilders will find this interesting and wholly charming house everything that they desire in a home. It has six main rooms, sun parlor and sleeping porch and bath. There is a large pantry, which might be converted into a dining alcove, and a fine attic which some have finished off for maid's room and bath. The interior is planned with many built-in conveniences.

Steep roofs shed rain and snow, and many casements court sunshine and breezes. The plans call for stucco on frame construction, but a house built of brick is equally charming. One of the most interesting features of both exterior and interior is the quaint semi-octagonal sun parlor which is simply an alcove at the front of the large living room. It has a domed plaster ceiling. Just opposite it is the fireplace, in an inglenook. The entrance, vestibule and stair hall are at one side of the house, and there is direct access to them from the kitchen as well as the living room.

At the left front is the open porch, with French doors leading to the dining room. In the dining room there is a pair of corner china closets, in the favored English oak, and oak wainscoting. The kitchen is provided with a built-in dresser and ironing board. The large pantry is provided with an extra sink and built-in dressers. The woodwork downstairs is appropriately in dark-stained oak. It is worthy of note that all of it is standard material which does not have to be made specially, and which well demonstrates that such material is adapted to better-class homes.

The three bedrooms upstairs have enameled woodwork. They fairly revel in closet space. There are large closets and small ones, tray cases, linen case, and a charming built-in dressing table. Notice how inconspicuous is the usually obtrusive and ugly sleeping porch, which opens off the living room at the left. It opens off two bedrooms, very conveniently.

Altogether, a six-room home could hardly be imagined that provides for more of the joy of living, with an exterior or of such attractive finish. It could be built for approximately $10,500.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain
How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any drugist a few ounces of Eucated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water, right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Eucated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inoperative to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Adv.

YOSEMITE BEAR WILL NOT TAKE WINTER SLEEP

YOSEMITE, Jan. 29.—This is the season of the year in Yosemite when the questions, "Why does a bear hibernate?" and "Why doesn't a bear hibernate?" always are rampant.

Ninety-nine and forty-four hundredths per cent of the bruin population has retired for the winter. Yet Bruno if you please, still remains without his cave. He's losing much sleep, and friends of this year-old cinnamon colored bruin are likewise losing some sleep trying to figure out ways and means to put Bruno to slumberland.

It was all started by a dynamite blast! Mert Carrol, a local resident, made friends with the little bear during the summer months. Bruno he admitted himself to the family circle. Mrs. Carrol learned of appetites from Bruno. He came regularly at meal times and made several calls in between—all in search of food. An exclusive beggar, who would dine with no others than the Carrols.

Bruno disappeared one day. It was the same day that a road crew commenced beating rocks near the Carrol home. The fall season replaced the warm summer months. Plate after plate of food remained untouched. "Well, he's hibernating for the winter," said Mrs. Carrol, as she stopped the practice of playing a handout near the kitchen door for the bearish beggar.

Then one day the road crew stopped blasting and moved on. The same day a queer knocking was heard underneath the floors of the Carrol home. Soon a thin, emaciated, little Bruno was scratching at the door, begging for food. Mrs. Carrol responded. The bruin ravenously ate his fill and then returned to his new home under the residence.

Now that the Carrols have left the valley for the winter, Bruno is going hungry. He won't desert the wooden floor over his head for real bear food in a cold rocky cave. He's trying to catch up on his late summer and fall meals at the expense of his sleep.

The valley folks all are worried about Bruno, and suggestions on how to put Bruno in slumberland are wanted by the Yosemite information ranger.

RARE OVER-PRODUCTION

There is again a good deal of talk in the South about a movement to restrict the cotton acreage. The Fort Worth, Tex., Star-Telegram thinks this is attacking the problem in an entirely wrong and futile way.

In the first place, no general movement of reduction is possible because every grower wants to leave the actual reducing to his neighbors. Also, such an attempted solution leaves the fundamental problems of the cotton-growers' troubles still untouched.

The Star-Telegram offers a suggestion of its own. It says:

"The farmers of the South should raise as much cotton as the world needs of them, but they should so manage their business that they can obtain a fair reward for their labors. They can do this by co-operation, by elimination of wasteful methods, by improvement of grades and by sounder financing."

There is sense in that argument, which could be applied equally well to the problems of other agriculturists or even to industry. There is always less danger of over-production of any useful commodity than there is of foolish handling of the crop after it's grown or manufactured. One need but read the history of our own citrus and walnut industries to know that the problem of over-production can be met.

BROKEN IMMIGRANT FAMILIES

So smoothly is the new immigration law working that it attracts little attention. There are no more spectacular races across the Atlantic to get in under the wire before national quotas are filled. The quotas are pretty well taken care of on the other side. There are few immigrants coming that have to be sent back. The total of new arrivals is small, and mostly of a higher and more digestible class than America has received for many years. The new law is incomparably better than the old.

Yet it is not perfect. Though the present plan is better for us and fair kinder to the immigrant, it is unexpectedly cruel sometimes. This is especially true in the case of divided families.

Reduced quotas prevent many an honest and capable immigrant from bringing over his parents or wife or children. Families broken in the old country, in anticipation of being reunited here after a short delay, continue divided, with no home on either side.

This is inhuman, unlike the American spirit, and does nobody any good. There is a proposal in Congress to remedy it by establishing a special "non-quota class" of immigrants, allowing the entry of immediate relatives of immigrants already established here, when there is no reason other than that of a filled quota now keeping them out. It isn't likely that anything would be lost by such action.

TAXING AMERICANS IN FRANCE

The French government, driven to desperate remedies to raise money, proposes to tax foreign residents as it does French citizens. This policy, if approved by parliament, would impose the French income tax on many thousands of Americans, in addition to the tax those Americans must pay at home.

It would be a serious thing to them. The French income tax rate is something to shudder at. It would make Americans pay $3,000 on a $10,000 income and $5,000 on a $15,000 income.

There is a way out, to be sure. The French evade heavy taxation by using their own judgment about the size of their tax-returns. The average Frenchman last year reported an income of only $25 above the exemption allowed. If the Americans followed the same course, they could still afford to live in France, and live well there, because the low value of the franc makes cheap living.

Otherwise the rich or well-to-do would sell their estates or leave their hotels and pensions, and would come back home professing a new affection for their own country. The "American colony" in Paris would be decimated. Which, come to think of it, might not be a bad thing for either country.

ITALIAN DEBT IN SENATE

The House of Representatives has ratified the Italian debt pact by a non-partisan vote of more than two to one. The debate was conducted with an unusual degree of common sense. Though it started with vitriolic attacks upon Premier Mussolini—whom Americans indeed have little reason to admire—personalities were soon dropped for a discussion of the merits and demerits of the bill itself, and friendly estimates of Italy and her situation.

It is now up to the Senate. And what that body will do with the measure is problematical. The Senate is not given to ratifying any kind of foreign agreement without a bitter fight and long delay.

The Senate may well take a hint, however, from the House, and bear in mind that the House represents public sentiment. The public has ratified the Italian settlement, and almost dismissed the matter from its mind, regarding it as about the best arrangement that could be made, and as good national policy.

ONE THOUSAND BEST BOOKS

The five-foot shelf with its urge to do 15 minutes of reading a day has a rival in a collection of "one thousand best books" recently installed in the University of Pennsylvania library. This collection is endowed for its permanent maintenance with a $10,000 gift from an anonymous donor.

It must be simpler to select the world's 1,000 best books than the 10 best, as so many intrepid critics have attempted to do. However, even the larger list is really hard to compile, as may be gathered from some of the statistics about the Pennsylvania choice.

The 1,000 were chosen from 58 different lists of "worth while" books made from time to time by "authorities". Of the 460 authors mentioned in the 58 lists, none was named by every compiler. Sir Walter Scott came first with 38 authorities including one or more of his books. Shakespeare was second, one or more of his works being called for by 34 authorities. But in number of works mentioned,

Shakespeare won over Scott. Of the nine works endorsed by 21 authorities, eight were Shakespeare's. The ninth was Scott's "Ivanhoe."

It is evidence of how much must necessarily be omitted even from so comprehensive a number as 1,000 books, that only nine works of literature received mention 21 times out of a possible 58.

The compiling of such lists undoubtedly is useful. It calls attention to books and authors and it provides helpful reading guides for library patrons who have no other source of reading inspiration. But it never produces any final supreme list. The treasure is too vast to be so narrowly outlined and parcelled.

More from Flood Than War

Fresno Republican

Significant is the statement from Brussels that Liege has been damaged more by the Rhine itself, in the last few days, than it was injured by the flow of humanly managed forces across the Rhine in the year 1914.

And even if there happened to be less actual loss of life, there doubtless has been as much misery from this water destruction, as there was from shell and bayonet in the Great War.

Let us not be too cynical about our own failure, or that of our governments or churches, to find a way to human peace.

For we have not yet, in the calm of everyday life, been able to use the vast forces at our command to impound the waters we should save, from flood, for the storage of water and power for all the year round human energy.

We, in the Southwest, are letting millions in money and human happiness run away to sea, through the Colorado, because we can not agree on a political plan for the management of the stream. And any year the Colorado may rise and wipe out the whole Imperial valley.

And any year the Kings river, in central California, may come along, wiping out bridges and roads and diversion works, costing the county government and public service corporations and private owners many thousands of dollars. Just because we do not form a plan for handling the water of this river as an engineer unit.

He Earned His Greatness

Fresno Republican

Cardinal Mercier of Belgium has been one of those men and women who, established in positions which have given them prestige, have demonstrated a human greatness quite apart from these positions. Think what we may of conventionalized religion or of established church forms, it is something distinguished to be a cardinal, and it is something of great responsibility and of power to be a bishop. Either of these things would have granted to Mercier prestige. It is not greatly different from the prestige that comes from the possession of money or beauty, or popularity, of any sort. To a vain man or woman, it is a source of gratification. To a calculating man it is a means of aggrandizement or enrichment.

Cardinal Mercier became a world figure through the accidents of the World War. But he became a great figure through his personal qualities. That he flouted the conquering Germans meant comparatively little, in itself. Plenty of other Belgians did that. It was his rank as a prelate that gave this gesture of his the notoriety that reached wherever men and women were talking of the hazards of war and peace. But the distinction that made the people of Belgium love him was no accident of war. He had a combination of heart and mind that made for respect on a wide scale and love just as deep.

Daylight Saving Initiative

Riverside Press

California voters are to be asked to turn back the clock by initiative and provide for daylight saving throughout the state.

At least this is the plan on foot at present among a group of San Francisco financial men who are in favor of a daylight saving law for this state along the lines of daylight saving ordinances in New York and other states.

Those interested in the proposed initiative measure are stock exchange members, who find themselves in difficulty during the summer months in the transaction of business with New York and the east because of the daylight saving laws.

J. H. Zemansky, San Francisco Registrar of Voters, and an authority on election matters, has been called into conference to discuss the proposal to put forward the daylight saving law as an initiative measure this fall.

The aim of the backers of the proposal is to make the daylight saving system uniform throughout the state.

SYMPTOMS TO WATCH IN CHILD

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second of a series of three articles on guarding children against illness. Tomorrow: Whooping cough, mumps and scarlet fever.)

Measles at first bears some likeness to the common cold but the child is usually sicker than would be expected. A good criterion is the temperature of the child.

It is important that the child shall not have taken a cool or hot drink for fifteen minutes before the thermometer is used. In the case of very young or nervous children the rectal temperature is more reliable. The thermometer should be kept in an antiseptic solution such as five per cent carbolic acid solution and be wiped off with sterile gauze before using and cleansed with cold water after using.

If the temperature is over 100.5 degrees, measles must be considered, especially if the eyes are red and watery and there is a cough. An immediate improvement of the child's condition should not be taken as pointing against measles as this improved condition is frequently seen before the rash comes out.

Scarlet fever also begins with fever. The first symptom is usually sore throat or vomiting. Headache and a coated tongue are also frequent symptoms.

Diphtheria is often thought of as a severe sore throat. On the contrary, the throat symptoms at first tend to the milder and the temperature lower than the ordinary tonsillitis.

Great languor and weakness, however, are more noticeable in diphtheria although the pain on swallowing may not be marked.

There is another form of diphtheria which is more frequent in younger than in older children. This is laryngeal diphtheria, formerly called membranous or true croup. Laryngeal diphtheria can be distinguished from false croup principally by the fact that the child becomes progressively worse. In false croup there is usually no difficulty in breathing until the sudden suffocating spasm comes on, oftenest in the middle of the night.

In laryngeal diphtheria, however, there may be no spasm at any time. Besides hoarseness and a barking cough, which occurs also in false croup, the child wheezes even after slight stirring about and uses considerable muscular effort in breathing.

As soon as difficulty in breathing is seen in a child a physician should be sent for immediately. Cases of hoarseness with a croupy cough are sufficiently suspicious to demand immediate medical attention.

Ah! Food for the Undernourished

Little Things in Life Of Real Consequence

Pasadena Star-News.

Benjamin Franklin, that amazing philosopher and sage, whose wisdom and prominence were almost superhuman, measured not only by the standards of the age in which he lived, but by all ages, devoted much warning and exhortation, in the homely maxims of his "Poor Richard's Almanac," to little things. "Many a little makes a mickle." "Dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that is the stuff life is made of." "Little strokes fell great oaks." "A little neglect may breed mischief: for want of a nail the shoe was lost; for want of a shoe the horse was lost and for want of a horse the rider was lost." "A penny saved is a penny earned."

These are a few of the aphoristic sayings of this great man which stress the importance of the little. Great fortunes are made on sales of articles for five cents each—for example, packages of chewing gum; fly-paper; and other staples. And public service costing five cents—street railways fares, for example.

And so, in character and achievement—the little things are vital and lead to or affect the big things. Who is successful in a business or a profession who does not look carefully to the small things—the minute details? And little courtesies and thoughtful, kindly deeds—these go far toward making a career successful. And little honesties—these are essential. It is natural to trust the person who is scrupulously honest, even to a penny, in all dealings with others.

Nothing that is good and wholesome and worth while in life is trivial. Each little, humble thing has its essential part, as each microscopic insect is essential to the formation of a coral reef. It is a serious mistake in life to underrate the value of little things. On the other hand, it is a mistake to overrate little things—to dwell too much upon them, to the neglect of the big, important things. There is a happy medium—a balance between the big and the little things, which denotes the wise and proper course in shaping character and meeting successfully the great problems and issues of life.

The Very Idea!

By Hal Cochran

SH-H! Yo gotta be quiet an' walk on your toes; the baby's asleepin' jes' now. We've worried a heap 'bout the tot, goodness knows. There's fever been burnin' her brow.

The window's been up and the shades have been down. We're keepin' the room kinda cool. She's bundled up tight in a warm sleepin' gown, but she breathes the fresh air as a rule.

Why, sure, ya kin peek in the room, if ya like. A mighty sweet picture you'll see. But, be a bit careful; don't wake the wee tike. She's sleepin' as sleepin' kin be.

The doctor jes' called and he cheered us a lot. "There's no need to worry," he said. "It's only a fever that's ailin' the tot. Jes' keep her real cool in bed."

Of course we've been tendin' the best we know how, and we'll jes' keep on tendin', and then, she'll lose all the fever that's burnin' her brow—and soon be playin' again.

Friendly fences are always at sword's points.

My compliments to the good housewife who bawled the maid out for lettin' the milkman kiss her—and decided to take the milk in herself in the future.

It's no wonder a man thinks he leads a dog's life, when he comes in with muddy feet, gets comfortable by the fire, and waits to be fed.

"I never will play poker with a dentist," shouted Bill. "Twould be a very simple thing for him to draw and fill."

NOW, HONESTLY—Maybe there's someone you don't especially care for.

And maybe you take a rap at him or her in conversation, whenever you get a chance.

What good does it do you? Knocking only boosts you out of other people's estimation.

We all get a kick out of hearing someone praised. But we never praise anyone who kicks at someone else.

Silence is a golden opportunity when all you have in mind is a rap.

HUSBAND: "I had it charged."

Temperamental Typing
My typewriter's given to tempera-ment.

And my pals in the office all say They can tell from the way it makes letters and signs.

What occurs in the office that day,

If I'm writing away and the boss comes around

And pauses to smile or to frown,

I'm quite on my head while he's still in the room

episd 'no souco eqm jvhl os jumop

A door that's left open when morn-ings are cold

Is always a matter of dread;

The typewriter shudders and sizzles and shays

With a derrible cold id the head!

If a pretty maid enters and glances my way,

'Tis then that the typewriter sings, And though gloomy the morning,

My copy they say,

If full of and things.

Saturday's pay day, the best day of all;

I write in such smooth flowing lines But my foolish machine makes no

esses at all—

It only makes 3 mark signs!

Chronicles of the Little Gray House

"My goodness!" ejaculated Peggy when she first came to the Little Gray House from the green hills of the Ohio home. "My goodness! Don't California women talk of anything but reducing?"

Whether it is climatic influence or not, Peggy watches her calories with the best of them now. All of which is neither here nor there, but we just wanted to tell you about the comfortably upholstered woman

we saw a few days ago who started to step on the scales just at the entrance to a Santa Ana store. She was carrying a bag that looked like a cross between a purse and an over-night bag, and evidently disliked putting it down while she weighed.

Still she didn't want to hold it and add its weight to hers, so as we watched her in utter fascination, she finally solved the problem by carefully depositing the bag on the scales at her feet, and then reading the result, confident that the bag was safe and yet, since it was out of her hands, its weight wouldn't count with hers.

I don't know what secret the scales revealed. It wasn't gratifying though, from the expression on her face.

VICTORIA ANN has submitted as one of her favorites, the following:

IT is not right To call men white

Who virtue lack;

For it is sin, And not the skin,

That makes men black. Not by the cut of his hair,

Not by his clan or birth, Shall the Brahman claim the Brahman's name.

But only by moral worth. —From the Buddhist Dhammapada
